INSTRUCTIONS

AND

REGULATIONS

REGULATIONS and INSTRUCTIONS

Relating to His MAJESTY's

SERVICE at SEA.

PART I.

The Flag-Officer, or Commander in Chief.

ARTICLE I.

THE Flag-Officer, or Commander in Chief, is to inform the Secretary of the Admiralty of all his Proceedings that relate to the Service, for the Information of the Lord High Admiral, or Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty. To inform the Secretary of the Admiralty of his Proceedings.

II.

To inform the Publick Offices of all Matters relating to them.

He is likewiſe to correſpond with the ſeveral Publick Offices, about ſuch Matters as relate to them; and to ſend an Account to them, as well as to the Admiralty, of all Directions given by him, which concern the ſaid Offices.

III.

Not to order the bearing Supernumeraries without Cauſe.

He is never to give Orders to any Captain to bear Supernumeraries, unleſs there be juſt Cauſe for it; which is to be expreſſed in the Body of the Order; and he is to inform the Secretary of the Admiralty when he gives ſuch Orders, and of his Reaſons for ſo doing.

IV.

To exerciſe his ſquadron frequently.

When he is at Sea, he is frequently to exerciſe the Ships under his Command, and draw them into Lines of Battle, when the Weather is fair, and the ſame can done without Interruption to the Voyage.

V.

To viſit the Ships under his Command.

He is to viſit the Ships of his Squadron or Diviſion, and view the Men on Board, and ſee them muſtered, as often as he ſhall think neceſſary.

VI.

To direct the Naval Officers abroad, according to the Rules of the Navy.

When he is in Foreign Parts, where Naval or other Officers are eſtabliſhed, he is to conform himſelf, as much as poſſible, to the ſtanding Rules of the Navy, in ſuch Directions as he ſhall have Occaſion to give them; and never to put them upon any extraordinary Expences, unleſs the Service ſhall abſolutely require the ſame.

VII.

He is never to intereſt himſelf in the Purchaſe of any Stores or Proviſions in Foreign Parts, where there are proper Officers appointed for that Service, except there ſhall be an abſolute Neceſſity to make Uſe of his Credit or Authority to procure ſuch Proviſions or Stores as are wanted; but in that Caſe, he ſhall not be ſo concerned, as to have any private Intereſt in the ſame. Not to intereſt himſelf in purchaſing Stores or Proviſions abroad.

VIII.

At the End of the Voyage he is to attend the Lord High Admiral, or Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, to give an Account of the Expedition; and ſhall leave a Copy of his Journal with the Secretary of the Admiralty. To deliver a Journal into the Admiralty-Office at the End of the Voyage.

Of Courts Martial.

Article I.

ALL Courts Martial are to be held, Offences tryed, Sentence pronounced, and Execution of Act of the 13th Car. II. to be obſerved.

of ſuch Sentence to be done, according to the Articles and Orders contained in an Act of Parliament made in the Thirteenth Year of the Reign of King Charles the Second, Entitled, An Act for the Eſtabliſhing Articles and Orders for the Regulating and better Government of His Majeſty's Navy, Ships of War, and Forces by Sea: Which Act all Officers concerned are duly to peruſe for their Inſtruction herein.

II.

Powers to hold Courts Martial, in Force only during the Expedition.

All Commiſſions, or General Powers for holding Courts Martial, are to be underſtood to be in Force no longer than during the Expedition.

III.

Courts Martial to be held in Publick.

Courts Martial ſhall always be held in the Forenoon, and in the moſt publick Place of the Ship, where all, who will, may be preſent; and the Captains of all his Majeſty's Ships in Company, which take Poſt, have a Right to aſſiſt thereat.

IV.

Complaints to be made in Writing.

All Complaints at Sea, or in Foreign Parts, upon which the Summoning a Court Martial is to be grounded, ſhall be made in Writing to the Commander in Chief, (unleſs where the ſaid Commander in Chief ſhall ſee Cauſe of himſelf to call the ſame,) in which are to be ſet forth the particular Facts, with the Place, Time, and in what Manner they were committed. And if any Captain, who is intitled by his Rank to ſit

ſit in the Court, be perſonally concerned in the Matter to be tryed, he ſhall not be admitted to ſit at the ſaid Tryal.

V.

Judge-Advocate to examine Witneſſes upon Oath.

The Judge-Advocate is to examine the Witneſſes upon Oath, take down their Depoſitions in Writing, and ſhew the ſame to the Commander in Chief, who is to order him to ſend timely, before the Tryal, an atteſted Copy of the Charge or Accuſation to the Party accuſed, in order to his being the better prepared for his Defence.

VI.

To take Minutes of the Proceedings of the Court.

When the Court is ſitting, the Judge-Advocate is to take Minutes of their Proceedings, and to adviſe them of the proper Forms, when there ſhall be Occaſion; and to deliver his Opinion in any Doubts or Difficulties in their Methods, that may ariſe in the Courſe of the Tryal.

VII.

Matters to be ſettled by the Majority of Voices.

When the Court ſhall have gone through the Examination, and heard all Parties, the Perſon accuſed ſhall be removed, and the Standers-by ordered to withdraw; after which, the Matters being fully conſidered and debated by the Court, the Preſident is to ſtate and put the ſeveral Queſtions agreed by them; in which the youngeſt Officer ſhall vote firſt, proceeding in Order up to the Preſident, who, having delivered his own Opinion, is to collect the Numbers, and ſettle the Determination of the Court, according to the Majority of Voices.

and

VIII.

Judge-Advocate to draw up and pronounce the Sentence.

The Judge-Advocate is to draw up in Writing the Sentence of the Court; which being approved and ſigned by them, all Perſons ſhall be admitted; and the Party accuſed being preſent, the Judge-Advocate, by Direction of the Preſident, is to pronounce the ſame.

IX.

Executions to be publick,

When Sentence of Death is to be executed upon any Criminal, Notice is to be firſt given from the Ship by a Signal, and firing a Gun; upon which the Captains of all the Ships preſent ſhall ſummon their Companies upon Deck, to be Spectators thereof; and ſhall make known to them the Crime for which the Puniſhment is inflicted.

X.

Judge-Advocate to ſend the Proceedings of the Court to the Admiralty.

The Judge-Advocate is always to ſend the Original Sentence and Affidavits, as alſo the Minutes which he has taken of the Proceedings of the Court, to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

Of Rank and Command.

Article I.

THE eſtabliſhed Number of Flag-Officers of the Navy ſhall be as follows, viz. One Admiral and Commander in Chief of the Fleet; one Admiral of the White, and one Admiral of the Blue; one Vice-Admiral of the Red, one of the White, and one of the Blue; one Rear-Admiral of the Red, one of the White, and one of the Blue. And no Brevet Commiſſions ſhall be allowed. Number of Flag-Officers eſtabliſhed.

II.

Admirals, Vice and Rear-Admirals, Captains and Lieutenants, ſhall rank in their reſpective Claſſes, according to the Seniority of their Commiſſions. Officers to Rank according to their Commiſſions.

III.

When there is a ſufficient Number of Flag-Officers together, all Councils of War ſhall be held by them only. The firſt Captain to the Admiral of the Fleet ſhall, on ſuch Occaſions, be eſteemed as a Rear-Admiral, and take Place at all Councils of War, and alſo at Courts Martial, next to the Junior Rear-Admiral. Councils of War to be held by Flag-Officers.

IV.

But if the Number of Flag-Officers be leſs than Three, the Commander in Chief ſhall call to Councils of If not enough, Captains to be called.

of War, ſuch of the Senior Captains as he ſhall in his Diſcretion think neceſſary, of whom his own Captain is to be one.

V.

None to rank as Captains, but ſuch as have commanded Frigates.

None are to have the Rank of Captains, who have not commanded a Frigate of Twenty Guns, or more.

VI.

Commanders of ſmaller Veſſels to be commanded by Captains of Poſt Ships.

Commanders of Fire-ſhips, Sloops, Yachts, Bomb-Veſſels, Hoſpitals, Store-ſhips, and other Veſſels, though they may have commanded Ships of Poſt before, ſhall be commanded by Junior Captains in Ships of Poſt, while they keep Company together, either in Port, or at Sea; but without Prejudice to their Seniority afterwards.

VII.

Commanders to ſhew their Orders to their Superior Officer.

When any Flag-Officer, or Captain, ſhall meet at Sea, or in Foreign Parts, with a Superior or Senior Officer, he ſhall ſhew him the Orders he is under; and if ſuch Officer ſhall take upon him to give him other Orders for His Majeſty's Service, he ſhall obey them.

VIII.

Superior Officer not to detain a Junior without Cauſe.

No Superior or Senior Officer ſhall detain a Junior, or give him any Delay, or divert him from purſuing his Inſtructions, unleſs it ſhall be abſolutely neceſſary for for His Majeſty's Service; and in ſuch Caſe, he ſhall ſend, by the firſt Opportunity, a Copy of the Orders he has given him, with his Reaſons for ſo doing, to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

X.

Drum to beat at ſetting and relieving the Watch.

When the Admiral, or Commanding Ship, in any Port or Road, begins to beat the Drum, in order to the ſetting the Night-Watch, all the Ships in Company are to do the ſame; and to ceaſe beating, as ſoon as the ſaid Commanding Ship has fired the Gun. But when the Watch is to be relieved in the Morning, the Commanding Ship is firſt to fire the Gun, and the Drum to beat afterwards.

XI.

Flag-ſhips to fire Volleys after the Watch-Gun.

When any Flag-ſhips are in Company with the Commander in Chief, each is to diſcharge a Volley of Small Arms, in her Turn, as ſoon as the Gun is fired.

XII.

Captains not to fire the Watch-Gun without Five Ships in Company, except in the Downes.

Captains are forbid to fire the Watch-Gun in any Port or Road, either Abroad or at Home, except in the Downes, unleſs there be at leaſt Five of His Majeſty's Ships in Company; but in the Abſence of a Superior Officer, the Eldeſt Captain of Guard-ſhips in His Majeſty's Ports; or if there be but one, the Captain of ſuch Guard-ſhip is always to fire the Watch-Gun.

Guard-ſhip to do it.

XIII.

Commanders of ſmall Ships never to fire the Watch-Gun.

Commanders of Ships under Twenty Guns, are forbid ever to fire the Watch-Gun; and ſo are Commanders of Hoſpital-ſhips, Store-ſhips, and ſuch-like, though they may carry more than Twenty Guns.

XIV.

Rank of the Officers in a Ship.

In the Abſence of the Captain of any of His Majeſty's Ships, the Senior Lieutenant ſhall have Charge of the Ship, and be anſwerable for the Duty of the Captain. If there be no Lieutenant, the Maſter ſhall command, and after him the Second Maſter; but if, by Loſs in Battle, or other Accident, all theſe Officers ſhall be wanting, the Command ſhall devolve in Succeſſion, upon the Boatſwain, Gunner, Carpenter.

Of Marks of Ceremony and Reſpect.

Article I.

Flag-Officers to be received with a Guard, and Beat of Drum.

WHEN Flag-Officers go on Board any of His Majeſty's Ships, they ſhall be received with a Guard under Arms, the Drum beating a March for the Admiral or Flag-Officer commanding in Chief, three Ruffles for an Admiral, two for a Vice-Admiral, and one for a Rear-Admiral.

II. The

II.

The Firſt Captain to the Admiral and Commander in Chief of the Fleet ſhall be received with a Guard without a Drum.

Firſt Captain to the Admiral of the Fleet, with a Guard only.

III.

When a Flag-Officer, commanding in Chief, paſſes by any Ship with his Flag at the Head of the Boat, the Ship is to be manned with the Watch, and the Drum to beat, as in the Frſt Article.

Flag-Officers paſſing in Boats, to be complimented with the Watch and Beat of Drum.

Of Colours.

Article I.

FLAG-Officers, and Captains, are ſtrictly forbidden to wear any other Flag or Pendant, than what belongs to their proper Rank, except when His Majeſty, or any of the Royal Family, are on Board.

Officers to wear no Colours but what belong to their Rank.

II.

If any Officer, wearing a Flag, or broad Pendant, ſhall happen to be ſlain in Fight with the Enemy, the ſaid Flag or Pendant ſhall nevertheleſs continue flying, and not be taken in, whilſt the Enemy is in Sight; but the Admiral, who commands in Chief, as alſo the Flag Officer, to whoſe Squadron, or Diviſion

Colours of an Officer ſlain not to be taken in, in Sight of the Enemy.

he belonged, ſhall immediately be acquainted with it; and if it be the Commander in Chief who is killed, the next commanding Officer is to be forthwith informed of it, who ſhall immediately repair on Board the Ship of the deceaſed Commander, and give the neceſſary Orders, leaving his Flag, or broad Pendant, flying in his own Ship.

III.

Colours to be worn by Flag-Officers in their Boats.

For the better Diſtinction of Flag-Officers paſſing in their Boats, the following Regulation is to be obſerved; the Admiral of the Fleet, the Admirals of the White and Blue, and the Vice-Admiral of the Red, may carry their proper Flags at the Head of their Boats, when they think proper; but there ſhall be in the other Flags the following Diſtinction, viz. a White Ball in the Flag of the Rear-Admiral of the Red; a Blue Ball in the Flag of the Vice of the White; and two Blue Balls in the Flag of the Rear of the White; a White Ball in the Flag of the Vice of the Blue; and two White Balls in the Flag of the Rear of the Blue: The ſaid Balls to be in a Canton, at the upper Corner of the Flag, next the Staff.

IV.

Colours of Merchant-Ships.

Merchant-ſhips are to wear a Red Enſign, with the Union Jack in a Canton, at the upper End next the Staff; and a White Jack, with a Red Croſs, commonly called St. George's Croſs, paſſing quite through the ſame.

V. Ships

V.

Ships having private Commiſſions, or Letters of Mart or Reprizals, are to wear the ſame Enſign as Merchant-ſhips; and a Red Jack, with the Union Jack in a Canton, at the upper Corner next the Staff. Colours of Privateers.

VI.

Ships or Veſſels, in the Service of any public Office, are to wear the ſame Enſign and Jack as Ships having Letters of Mart, only that in the Body of the Jack or Enſign, ſhall be likewiſe deſcribed the Seal of the Office they belong to. Colours of Veſſels belonging to public Offices.

VII.

His Majeſty ſtrictly forbids all Maſters of Merchant-ſhips, as alſo of all Ships or Veſſels employed in the Service of any public Office, or in raiſing Seamen, to wear Pendants, or what may be taken for them: And if any ſhall preſume to offend herein, and wear Flags, Pendants, or other Colours, contrary to what is here allowed, it is His Majeſty's Pleaſure, that the Captains, or any other Officers of His Ships of War, do ſeize the ſaid Colours, and return the Names of the Maſter and Ship to the Secretary of the Admiralty, together with Affidavits of the Fact by two Witneſſes, in order to their being proceeded againſt in the High Court of Admiralty. Ships wearing prohibited Colours, to be proceeded againſt in the Admiralty-Court.

VIII. The

VIII.

Foreign Ships not to ride in His Majeſty's Ports with falſe Colours.

The Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships are not to ſuffer any Foreign Ships to ride in any of His Ports or Roads with falſe Colours; and if they perſiſt therein, after being admoniſhed, they are to put the ſaid Ships under Arreſt, and ſend an Account thereof to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

Rules to be obſerved in the Appointment of Officers in Foreign Parts.

Article I.

Commanders in Chief not to appoint Officers in the Channel.

WHEN any Commanders in Chief ſhall have Power given them, in their Commiſſions or Inſtructions, to appoint Officers in Ships under their Command, they are nevertheleſs not to proceed to execute that Power while they are within the Channel, but to acquaint the Secretary of the Admiralty of all Vacancies that ſhall happen.

II.

No Lieutenants to be made, without paſſing a regular Examination.

Commanders in Chief are not to prefer any to be Lieutenants in Foreign Parts, but ſuch as have paſſed their Examination; which if they have not already done at the Navy-Office, they may authorize any three three of their principal Commanders to examine them; and if it ſhall appear, by their Certificates, that they have ſerved Six Years at Sea, and have been rated two of the ſaid Six Years as Midſhipmen, or Mates, in ſome of His Majeſty's Ships, and that they do produce regular Journals and good Certificates from the Commanders they have ſerved with, and are in all Reſpects qualified for that Employment, and not under Twenty Years of Age, they may prefer them, and not otherwiſe, taking Care to ſend the ſaid Certificates of Examination to the Secretary of the Admiralty, to be depoſited in that Office.

III.

Commanders in Chief may appoint ſuch of their Officers as may happen to be Members of Trinity-Houſe; or, if there be none, ſuch of their Commanders or Maſters, as they think proper to examine Maſters, or their Mates, or others, applying for the Employment of Maſters; and according to their Certificates, may promote them to any Vacancies in the Voyage; but, after their Return home, they are to be re-examined before the Corporation of Trinity-Houſe, and ſhall not be employed again, without their Certificates of Approbation; but in Caſe there are Second Maſters on board any of the Ships of the Squadron, they are firſt to be provided for according to their Seniority and Qualification, before any new one is made; and no other Second Maſters are to be created in their Room. Nor Maſters.

IV. Surgeons

IV.

Nor Surgeons. Surgeons and their Mates are to be examined by ſome of the Principal Surgeons of the Fleet or Squadron, if they have not already paſſed their Examination at Surgeons Hall, and ſhall not be preferred to higher Ships than they are qualified for by their Certificates. If a Phyſician is in the Fleet, he ſhall preſide at the Examination; but upon their Return Home, they are to paſs a freſh Examination before the Governors of the Surgeons Company, and are not to be employed again, without their Certificates of Approbation.

PART II.

PART II.

The Captain or Commander.

ARTICLE I.

WHEN a Captain, or Commander, receives a Commiſſion to command one of His Majeſty's Ships, he is immediately to repair on board, and viſit her throughout, in Company with his Officers, and ſuch of the Officers of the Yard, as the Commiſſioner of the Navy, or in his Abſence, the chief Officers of the Yard ſhall appoint, and inform himſelf of her Condition, and in what Manner ſhe is to be fitted out for the Sea. To viſit the Ship he is appointed to command.

II.

To ſend Accounts of the Progreſs in fitting her out.

He is to give his conſtant Attendance on board, and inſpect into the Works doing to the Ship, and to quicken the Diſpatch thereof: He is to ſend to the Admiralty and Navy-Offices Weekly Accounts, or oftener, if neceſſary, of the Progreſs made in fitting her out, and her Circumſtances, as to Men, Stores, and Proviſions; and whether there be any Delay, Neglect, or other Impediment, and the Cauſe thereof, that the neceſſary Orders may be given therein.

III.

Not to lye out of the Ship without Leave.

He is not to lye out of the Ship, from the Day of his coming on board, to the Day of his Diſcharge, unleſs by Leave from the Admiralty, or from his Commander in Chief.

IV.

To apply in Writing to the Commiſſioner of the Navy.

All Applications concerning the Ship to the Commiſſioner of the Navy reſiding at the Port, are to be made in Writing under his Hand, when he cannot apply in Perſon.

V.

To know the Qualities of the Ship.

He is to apply to the Navy-Board for an Account of the Qualities of the Ship, which will be depoſited with them by thoſe who have commanded her in former Voyages; but if ſhe be a new Ship, he is to adviſe with the Maſter Shipwright who built her.

VI. He

VI.

He is to demand from the Clerk of the Survey, a Survey-Book, with an Inventory of the Stores committed to the Charge of the Boatſwain and Carpenter, and a Supplemental one for a Foreign Voyage; and a like Book from the Office of Ordnance, of the Gunner's Stores. He is likewiſe to require from his Boatſwain, Gunner, Carpenter, and Purſer, Counterparts of their reſpective Indents, which they are to deliver to him forthwith after ſigning.

To take Inventories of his Officers Stores.

VII.

He is to be preſent himſelf, at the coming on board of the Ordnance Stores, and to ſee the Cannon, Firelocks, Swords, and other Weapons carefully ſurvey'd and examined before him, and to inform the Officers of the Ordnance of ſuch as ſhall appear to be Defective, and not fitting for Service, in order to their being exchanged. But in Caſe he ſhall be then abſent from the Ship, he is to give ſtrict Orders to the Lieutenant to comply therewith. He is likewiſe to take Care, that his Clerk be preſent, and take an Account in Writing of all Stores and Proviſions that come on board, and when; which Account he is afterwards to compare with the Indents, to ſatisfy himſelf if the Whole has been received in Kind, or allowed in Credit; which laſt is not however to be admitted, but where the Neceſſity is evident: And if he obſerves any Fraud or Neglect, he is to repreſent the

To be preſent when the Stores come on board, and his Clerk to take Account of all Stores and Proviſions that come on board.

ſame to the Secretary of the Admiralty, and alſo to the Office it immediately concerns.

VIII.

To be a Cheque on his Officers, and audit their Accounts.

He is to keep Counter-Books of the Expence of the Ship's Stores, to the End that he may aways be able to know the State and Condition of the ſame. He is to audit the Accounts of the Officers entruſted with Stores once a Week, and to ſign ſuch Allowances as he makes thereupon, taking Care not to paſs any Articles that are unduly charged. And, at the End of the Voyage, he is to deliver the ſeveral Books, which he has kept of the Expence of Stores, into the proper Offices, ſigned by himſelf, the Maſter, and by each Officer to his reſpective Counterpart.

IX.

To enter none but able Men, and not to exceed his Complement.

He is to inform himſelf from the Clerk of the Cheque, of the Complement of Men allowed to the Ship, and to uſe his utmoſt Application to get her mann'd, and to be very careful to enter none but Men of able Bodies, and fit for Service. He is conſtantly to keep the eſtabliſhed Number of Men compleat, and never to proceed from the Place where the Ship fits out, with more Men than the Complement, unleſs by Order from the Admiralty, or from a Commander in Chief.

X.

To keep a Muſter-Book.

He is to apply to the Clerk of the Acts at the Navy-Office, for a ſufficient Number of Blank Muſter-Books,

Books, which will be delivered to him Ruled, and to keep an exact Muſter-Book, ſetting down therein the Names of all Perſons entered to ſerve in the Ship, with every Circumſtance relating to them, as is ſpecified in the ſeveral Columns. When two Men, or more, are of the ſame Name, they are to be diſtinguiſhed by 1ſt, 2d, and ſo on. The Number under which a Man is entered in the original Muſter-Book, is to ſtand the ſame in all following Muſter-Books. If any Man is diſcharged, and happens afterwards to be re-entered, the Number of the firſt Entry is to be noted againſt the Number of the Re-entry, and vice verſâ, the Number of the Re-entry againſt the Number of the firſt Entry. When the Ship arrives at the Port where ſhe is to be laid up, he is to ſend the Original General Muſter-Book to the Comptroller of the Navy, ſigned by himſelf.

XI.

To be preſent at Muſters, and aſſiſt the Clerk of the Cheque.

He is to be preſent at all Muſters of the Ship's Company by the Clerk of the Cheque or Muſter-Maſter, and to make the ſame Annotations, as they do againſt the Men's Names, on his own Books. He is to be aſſiſting to them in the Execution of their Office, and ſee that the Purſer do furniſh them with perfect Muſter-Books: And, if there ſhall be a Want of Blank-Books during the Voyage, he is to demand a Supply from the Clerk of the Cheque or Muſter-Maſter, at the firſt Port he ſhall happen to put into. And he is to deliver, at the End of the Voyage, into the Office of the Clerk of the Acts, a regular Account count of the Expence of the Blank-Books and Muſter-Paper he has received, and return what is left.

XII.

To demand a Muſter-Book from the Clerk of the Cheque.

He is to demand from the Clerk of the Cheque at the Port where the Ship is, before ſhe departs from his Diſtrict, a perfect Muſter-Book of the Men's Names, with their Entries and Cheques againſt the Abſent.

XIII.

To muſter the Ship's Company, and uſe no Fraud in his Muſters.

He is himſelf to muſter the Ship's Company at leaſt once a Week in Port, where there is no Clerk of the Cheque or Muſter-Maſter, and to do the ſame at Sea; and to be very exact in noting the Time of each Man's Death or Diſcharge; as alſo in Pricking or Running ſuch as are abſent without Leave, and Chequing thoſe who are abſent on the Service, or with Licenſe; and in ſetting againſt the Names of ſuch as are away upon the Ship's Account, what Services they are employed on, with the Days of their Departure and Return. He is ſtrictly charged not to employ any Seamen out of the Ship on private Services, nor to bear any Men longer than the real Time of their Service, nor to put down any fictitious Names upon the Books. And if any Perſon ſhall abſent himſelf from his Duty without Leave, for three ſucceſſive Muſters, he is to be marked as a Runaway on the Ship's Books, according to the ancient Practice of the Navy, expreſſing the Day he left the Ship.

XIV. He

XIV.

He is to ſend, once in every two Months, two Muſter-Books to the Navy-Office, ſigned by himſelf and the Officers who ſign Tickets, and to take great Care, that ſuch Books be full and perfect, and every Circumſtance relating to the Men plainly noted therein, according to the Method preſcribed in the ſeveral Columns; and that the Times of Muſtering and the Muſter-Letters be duly ſet off. He is to write down at the End, the Number of Men Borne, Muſter'd, and Chequed at each Muſter. The Supernumeraries, if any, are likewiſe to be ſet down at the End of the ſaid Books, with the ſeveral Annotations againſt their Names which the Columns direct, and alſo an Account, by what Order, or on what Occaſion, they are Borne. He is to keep a Book of all Men ſent ſick out of the Ship, mentioning in proper Columns, their Number on the Ship's Book, Names, when and where ſent, when returned or diſcharged, and Number of Days abſent; which is to be deliver'd into the Office of Comptroller of the Navy, according to the Form in Page (185.)

To ſend Muſter-Books every two Months to the Navy-Office.

To keep a Sick-Book.

XV.

At the End of the Muſter-Books he is to make a Liſt of ſuch Seamen as are made Run, diſtinguiſhing whether they ran away from the Ship, or the Boat, or from Sick Quarters; or if they had Leave to go on Shore, and for how long; as alſo the Manner, and by what Opportunity they made their Eſcape; and whether whether he thinks they deſerve to be relieved, or not, and his Reaſons for it.

To ſet down the Run Men at the End of the Muſter-Books.

XVI.

To acquaint the Secretary of the Admiralty of ſuch as run away at Home.

If the ſaid Deſertion happens in any of the Ports of this Kingdom, he is to ſend up to the Secretary of the Admiralty, the Names of the Run Men, their Deſcription, Place of Abode, and all the Circumſtances of their Eſcape; together with the Names of ſuch Perſons as can give the beſt Evidence of the Fact, to the End that (if it ſhall be thought proper) the Provoſt Martial may be ſent to apprehend them, in order to their being brought to a Court Martial.

XVII.

How to uſe Tickets.

He is to apply to the Clerk of the Acts for a competent Number of Blank printed Tickets, which he is carefully to keep by him, uſing them (and none other) as there ſhall be Occaſion. He is to make out Tickets for all ſuch Seamen as ſhall be diſcharged from his Books, which are to be ſigned by himſelf, the Maſter, Boatſwain, and Purſer, or Reaſon ſhewn upon the Ticket of the Omiſſion of any of their Hands; and the Gunners and Carpenters are likewiſe to ſign for their reſpective Crews. He is to deliver the Ticket to none but the Party; but if he be dead, or abſent, he is to ſend the Ticket forthwith to the Navy-Office. At the End of the Voyage, he is to give an Account to the Clerk of the Acts, how many Tickets have been delivered out, with the Numeral Letter and Number by which each is diſtinguiſhed; the Day of Signing;

Signing; the Perſon dead, or diſcharged; and to whom they were delivered; and to return the Remainder into the Office.

XVIII.

He is not to diſcharge any Man, but for one of the following Reaſons, viz. Death; Preferment in ſome other of His Majeſty's Ships; Unfitneſs for Service; Officers Servants rated; or by Order from the Admiralty, or his Commander in Chief; and to expreſs the Cauſe upon the Ticket. At the Beginning of every Month, if the Ship is in Great-Britain or Ireland, he is to ſend to the Admiralty-Office, a Liſt of all Men diſcharged in the preceding Month, with the Time, Place, and Reaſons thereof, as alſo their Qualities. How to diſcharge Seamen.

XIX.

He is not to ſuffer any of the Stores to be miſapplied to private Uſes, nor any Waſte to be made, nor ſhall any Stores be changed or converted, but upon abſolute Neceſſity, and with the Advice of his Officers; and where any Converſions ſhall be made, to be very careful in charging the reſpective Officers therewith, and in giving an Account of them at the End of the Voyage, or on the Death or Removal of the reſpective Officer, to the Surveyor's Office; and to take Care, that all Stores loſt or deſtroyed, either by Careleſſneſs, or unavoidable Accident, or that are embezzled, be taken Notice of in a particular Manner, in the Expence Book of the reſpective Officer, and the Value To take Care of the Ship's Stores.

of the Stores loſt by Careleſſneſs, or that ſhall be embezzled, be charged againſt the Wages of the Offenders, on the Muſter and Pay-Books, that the ſame be abated from them at the Pay-Table.

XX.

Not to alter any Parts of the Ship.

He ſhall make no Alteration in the Maſts, Yards, Sails, or Furniture of the Ship; nor alter any Cabbins, Bulk-Heads, Store-Rooms, or ſet up any new Accommodations; nor ſhall he cut down any Part of the Ship, or cauſe Scuttles to be made or enlarged in her Sides.

XXI.

To place Centinels near the Store-Rooms.

He is to keep a Centinel conſtantly poſted at the Scuttles leading down into the Boatſwain's, Gunner's, and Carpenter's Store-Rooms, (as alſo into the Powder Light Rooms) which Centinel is to be ordered not to ſuffer any Perſon to paſs down the ſaid Scuttles with a Light, but by Leave from the Captain, or the Commanding Officer of the Watch; which Leave is to be ſignified to the ſaid Centinel by an Officer from the Quarter-Deck, and ſuch Light is always to be carried in a ſecure Lanthorn. He is to take Care, that no Perſon whatſoever do lie in any of the ſaid Store-Rooms, and that no Wine, Brandy, or any Thing elſe be lodged therein, but the Ship's proper Stores.

XXII.

Not to ſpare any Stores or Proviſions without Order.

He is not to ſpare any Proviſions or Stores to any of His Majeſty's Ships, but where the Neceſſity is evident, evident, and by Direction of his Commanding Officer, and always to give his Officers a Warrant in Writing for it. He is to be very careful to ſend, by the firſt Opportunity, to the proper Offices, diſtinct Accounts of all the Supplies he gives to other Ships, or receives from them; and of all Stores that ſhall be returned into any of His Majeſty's Stores Abroad, either decayed or ſerviceable; to remain there as a Charge and Diſcharge to the ſaid Officers.

Not to alter any Parts of the Ship.

XXIII.

He is to obſerve ſeaſonable Times in ſetting up his Shrouds, and other Rigging, eſpecially when they are new, and apt to ſtretch; and to be very careful to favour his Maſts, and not to hazard them in blowing Weather, except upon a Chaſe, or ſome other preſſing Occaſion.

The Rigging to be ſet up at proper Times, and the Maſts to be favoured.

XXIV.

When there ſhall be a Neceſſity to caſt any Rigging, or other Stores, he is firſt to order a Survey to be taken thereof, in the ſame Manner as is herein after directed with Regard to other Surveys.

Rigging and Stores to be ſurveyed before caſt.

XXV.

He is to cauſe ſuch of the Stores as require it, to be frequently brought upon Deck, to be ſurveyed and aired, and their Defects repaired; and the Store-Rooms are to be cleaned, aired, and put into good Condition, and made as ſecure as poſſible againſt Rats.

Stores and Store-Rooms to be aired.

XXVI.

Not to misuse the Sails. He is never to make Use of the Ship's Sails for covering Boats, or for Awnings; Canvas Awnings being allowed to Ships in Southern Voyages.

XXVII.

To keep the Ship clean. He is not to suffer the Ship's Decks or Gratings to be scraped oftener than shall be absolutely necessary, but take Care that they be well washed and swabbed once a Day, and the Air let into the Hold as frequently as may be.

XXVIII.

Officers to have their proper Cabbins. He shall permit every Officer to possess the Cabbin allotted to him by the Custom of the Navy, and not make any Variation therein.

XXIX.

To take Care of the Cables. No Person is to lie upon the Orlop, but by Leave from the Captain; nor is any Body to go amongst the Cables with Candles, but when the Service shall require it, by Order of the Captain, or the Commanding Officer of the Watch, and under the Care of a Quarter-Deck Officer.

XXX.

The Seamen to smoak Tobacco in proper Places. Such as Smoak Tobacco are to take it in the Forecastle, and in no other Place, taking all possible Care to prevent Accidents from Fire.

XXXI. And

XXXI.

And for the further preventing ſuch Accidents, Care is to be taken every Night, that immediately upon the ſetting of the Watch, both Fire and Candle be put out in the Cook-Room, Hold, Steward-Room, Cock-Pit, and every where between Decks, the Maſter at Arms, or ſome other careful Officer, being ſent about to ſee the ſame performed; nor are Candles to be uſed in any other Part of the Ship, but in Lanthorns, without the Captain's Leave.

To put out Fire and Candle at ſetting the Watch.

XXXII.

He is not to ſuffer any Perſon whatſoever to ſuttle, or ſell any Sort of Liquors to the Ship's Company, nor any Debts for the ſame to be inſerted in the Slop-Book, under Pretence of Cloaths or Tobacco iſſued to the Seamen.

None to ſuttle Aboard.

XXXIII.

Before the Ship proceeds to Sea, or as ſoon after as poſſible, he is to call together his Firſt-Lieutenant, Maſter, and Boatſwain, and take their Aſſiſtance, (as alſo the Gunner's and Carpenter's, for their Crews) in examining and rating the Ship's Company according to their Abilities, which he is to do without Partiality or Favour, and particularly not to Rate any as inferior Officers, but thoſe who are properly qualified; and to take ſtrict Care that every Perſon in the Ship, without Regard or Diſtinction, do actually perform the Service for which he is rated. And, for his Inſtruction in rating the Ship's Company, it is here declared, that none ſhall be rated Able, but who have ſerved three Years (at leaſt) at Sea, and are capable of doing the Duty of an Able Seaman; nor Midſhipmen, till they have ſerved four Years, and are in all Reſpects qualified for it; nor will they be paid as ſuch, unleſs they produce regular Journals to the Commiſſioner, who comptrolls the Payment of the Ship. And the ſame is expected from the Maſter's Mates.

XXXIV.

Number of Midſhipmen Ordinary allowed.

None are to be rated Midſhipmen Ordinary, but ſuch as have ſerved as Voluntiers by Order; and they who are ſo rated, ſhall receive the Pay of an Able Seamen, upon their producing a Certificate from their Captain, that they are qualified, and did the Duty of Midſhipmen. The Number each Ship is allowed to bear, is as follows, viz.

XXXV.

To quarter the Ship's Company.

Before the Ship ſails, the Captain is to make a Regulation for Quartering the Officers and Men, diſtributing buting them to the Great Guns, Small Arms, Rigging, &c. And that every Man may the better know his Station and Duty in caſe of Action, he is not only to cauſe a general Table, expreſſing the Mens Names, and their reſpective Quarters, to be hung up in ſome public Place of the Ship, but alſo particular Bills of Parchment to be fixed in every Quarter, and over every Gun, containing the Mens Names appointed to each Quarter. And he is to diſcipline the Ship's Company frequently in the Exerciſe of the Great Guns and Small Arms, to render them more expert in Time of Battle, and to ſet down in his Journal the Times he Exerciſes them.

To exerciſe them at the Great Guns and Small Arms.

XXXVI.

If any Officers are abſent from their Duty, when the Ship is under Sailing Orders, he is timely to ſend their Names up to the Secretary of the Admiralty, with the Cauſe of their Abſence, that (if it ſhall be thought proper) other Officers may be ſent down in their Room.

To inform the Secretary of the Admiralty of Officers abſent, when under Sailing Orders.

XXXVII.

He is to carry his full Number of Boats to Sea, and to take Care to ſecure them before blowing Weather; he is to huſband the Ship's Colours, and not to keep them abroad in windy Weather, the Pendant being a ſufficient Mark of Diſtinction.

To take Care of the Boats and Colours.

XXXVIII.

He is not to carry any Woman to Sea, nor to entertain any Foreigners to ſerve in the Ship, who are

To carry no Woman, nor Foreign Officers, to Sea.

Officers

Officers or Gentlemen, without Orders from the Admiralty.

XXXIX.

To convoy Ships bound his Way.

When he is to fail from one Port to another in Time of War, or Appearance of War, he is to give timely Notice to the Maſters of Merchants Ships bound his Way, and take ſuch of them under his Care and Protection, as ſhall be deſirous and ready to accompany him, but not to make any unneceſſary Stay, or deviate from his Orders upon that Account. He is to give the ſaid Ships, as alſo to ſuch others as he ſhall meet with in his Paſſage, ſafe Convoy towards the Ports whereto they are bound, as far as his and their Way lye together.

XL.

To keep a Journal.

He is from the Time of his going on board to keep a Journal, according to the Form ſet down in Page (158, 159.) and be careful to note therein all Occurrences, viz. Place where the Ship is at Noon; Changes of Wind and Weather; Salutes, with the Reaſons thereof; Remarks on unknown Places; and in general, every Circumſtance that concerns the Ship, her Stores, and Proviſions. At the End of every Six Months, he is to ſend a Copy of his Journal for the ſaid Time, to the Secretary of the Admiralty; and, at the Expiration of the Voyage, to deliver a general Copy of his Journal, ſigned by himſelf, into the Admiralty and Navy-Offices.

XLI.

He is, by all Opportunities, to ſend particular Accounts of his Proceedings to the Secretary of the Admiralty, mentioning therein the Condition of the Ship, Men, Stores, and Proviſions, together with all other Occurrences which he has met with, deſerving Notice. He is never to omit owning the Receipt of Orders ſent to him from the Admiralty; and he is likewiſe to keep a punctual Correſpondence with the Navy, Victualling, Ordnance, Sick and Wounded, and other public Offices, in whatſoever reſpectively concerns them.

To inform the Secretary of the Admiralty of his Proceedings, and Condition of the Ship.

To correſpond with the proper Offices.

XLII.

He is not to go into any other Port, than ſuch as his Orders direct him, unleſs by inevitable Neceſſity, and then to make no unneceſſary Stay there. If he is employed in a Cruizing Station, he is to keep the Sea the Time required by his Orders; but if he is compelled by any Accident to return ſooner into Port, he is to ſend in Writing the Reaſons thereof to the Secretary of the Admiralty, as alſo to the Commander in Chief, if any ſuch be there, and to put to Sea again ſo ſoon as the Ship's Wants are ſupplied.

Not to go into Port unneceſſarily.

XLIII.

Upon all Occaſions of Anchoring, he is to be very careful in the Choice of a good Berth, and when he is at Anchor in Roads where he is a Stranger, to cauſe the Maſter, or ſome other careful Officer, to XLIV.

To permit Cuſtom-houſe Officers to come Aboard.

When any Cuſtom-Houſe Officer ſhall come on Board, upon the Arrival of the Ship in any of His Majeſty's Ports, they are not to be obſtructed or ill treated in the Execution of their Duty, His Majeſty's Ships being liable to Viſitation as well as the Ships of Merchants; and if they ſhall be in Need of the Ship's Proviſions during their Stay on Board, he is to order them to be victualled as the Ship's Company.

XLV.

To demand Engliſh Seamen out of foreign Ships.

When he meets with any foreign Ship or Veſſel, he is to ſend a Commiſſion Officer to enquire if any Seamen, who are His Majeſty's Subjects, be on Board her, and to demand all ſuch, obliging their Maſters to pay them their Wages to that Day. But this is to be done with civil and friendly Behaviour on the Part of His Majeſty's Officers, who are to be very careful not to offer any Violence or ill Treatment to the Subjects of His Majeſty's Friends or Allies.

XLVI.

When the Ship is in Foreign Parts, where there are no Naval Officers, and there ſhall be an abſolute Neceſſity to careen her, the Captain is to do it with the beſt Huſbandry, and not to hire any Maſter Shipwrights to ſuperviſe the Work, which is to be done by the Carpenter of the Ship.

How to careen the Ship in Foreign Parts.

XLVII.

He is not to hire any Veſſels for careening the Ship, or receiving her Stores or Proviſions, unleſs the ſame be abſolutely neceſſary; and in that Caſe, not to take up more Tonnage than is needful; nor to keep the ſame longer than the Service will want; all which is to be proved by Certificates from the Signing Officers, and that the Rates the Veſſels were hired at, were as reaſonable as could be procured in thoſe Parts; and the ſaid Certificates are to mention the Tonnage of the Veſſels, Number of Men belonging to them, the Services they have been employed on, and the Time employed upon each diſtinct Service.

Not to hire Veſſels unneceſſarily for careening the Ship.

XLVIII.

He is never to cauſe the Ship to be painted either within board or without, nor to bring any Charge in his Accounts for Commiſſion-Money, nor to bream the Ship with old Junk, old Ropes, or Tar, when Bruſh or other Materials can be had; and what old Maſts, Spars, Deals, and other Things remain after the Cleaning is over, are to be charged on the proper Officers for future Uſe.

XLIX.

Not to hire Artificers unneceſſarily for Refitting the Ship.

None are to be employed, but the Company of the Ship, in Careening and Refitting her; but if, by Reaſon of Death or Sickneſs, there ſhall be an abſolute Neceſſity of hiring any Sort of Artificers from the Shore, their Names are to be entered on a Liſt, and they are to be daily muſtered, and kept to their Works, and diſcharged as ſoon as they can be ſpared: And as they are to be hired on the cheapeſt Terms, ſo they are to be paid by the ſaid Liſt, in the Preſence of two or more Commiſſion or Warrant Officers, who are to atteſt the ſaid Payments.

L.

Allowances to Carpenters, Shipwrights, and Caulkers, employed in Refitting the Ship.

And to encourage ſuch Carpenters, Shipwrights, and Caulkers, as ſerve in His Majeſty's Ships in Foreign Parts, and ſhall be employed in Working, either in their own or other Ships of His Majeſty, while they are refitting, the Captain of the Ship, which they work upon, ſhall make them the following Allowance by the Day, viz.

Stores bought to be diverted by the proper Officers.

He is to take Care that all bought Stores be delivered into the Custody of the proper Officers, taking their Receipts, and to charge the same upon them in his Books, and to send Copies of the said Charge, by the first Opportunity, to the proper Office.

LII.

To take up Money Abroad at the beſt Exchange.

When there ſhall be an indiſpenſible Neceſſity of taking up Money for the Uſe of the Ship, the Captain is to make his Intentions of doing it publickly known, and to negociate it at the beſt Exchange, which he is to get certified by the Governor or Conſul, where there are any, or elſe by two or three of the moſt eminent Merchants of the Place.

LIII.

To adviſe the proper Office of what Bills he draws, and ſend Home Accounts of his Diſburſements.

He is to give timely Notice to the proper Office, of what Bills he draws upon the ſame, with the Reaſons thereof, and to ſend Home with the ſaid Bills, or as ſoon after as may be, Duplicates of his Accounts, and Vouchers for the Diſburſements of the ſaid Money, taking Care that all Payments be witneſſed by two or more Commiſſion or Warrant-Officers, and that the Receipts do expreſs the Quality, Quantity, and Price of each Species bought, with the exact Size, Length, and Weight of Cordage; and that the Governor, Conſul, or Merchants as aforeſaid, do certify, that the Bargains were according to the Market Price.

LIV.

He is to take Care that all bought Stores be delivered into the Cuſtody of the proper Officers, taking their Receipts, and to charge the ſame againſt them in his Books, and to ſend Copies of the ſaid Charge, by the firſt Opportunity, to the proper Office.

Stores bought Abroad to be kept by the proper Officers.

LV.

Upon the Death of any Officer, he is immediately to cauſe an Inventory to be taken of all his Books and Papers, as well public as private, in the Preſence of (at leaſt) two of the Signing Officers, and to have the ſame atteſted by them: He is to ſee the ſaid Books and Papers carefully ſealed up, and preſerved for the Uſe of the Executors, or ſuch as ſhall have a Right to demand them; to whom, with the Inventory, they are to be delivered.

To ſeal up the Books and Papers of dead Officers.

LVI.

When any Officer, who has the Cuſtody of Stores or Proviſions, ſhall die, or be removed or ſuſpended from his Employment, he is to cauſe an exact Survey to be forthwith taken of the Remains of ſuch Stores or Provisions, and an Inventory of the same, in Words at length, to be attested and signed by the Successor, (who is to keep a Duplicate thereof) and also by the surveying Officers (who are to be so exact and careful in taking the Survey, as to be justified on Oath, if required) which he is to transmit, by the first Opportunity, to the proper Office, to remain there as a Charge against him. If the Ship is in Company with other Men of War, he must apply to the Commander in Chief, or to the senior Officer, to order the said Survey.

LVII.

When removed himself, to leave Copies of Orders with his Successor.

In case he shall be removed himself into another Ship, he is to shew the Originals of all such Orders as have been sent to him, and remain unexecuted, to his Successor, and leave with him attested Copies of the same, which shall be sufficient Warrant to his said Successor, to put them in Execution.

LVIII.

And a compleat Muster-Book.

He is likewise to leave with the said Successor one compleat Muster-Book, with all the Columns duly filled, and to send up all the other Books and Accounts under his Charge to the Offices they respectively relate to, in order to the passing his Accounts.

LIX.

Number of Men that may be removed with a Captain into another Ship.

When a Captain is removed by Commission from one Ship into another, he is allowed to carry along with with him the following Number of Men, including his Servants, viz.

LX.

In Caſe of Shipwreck, to ſave as much as poſſible.

In Caſe of Shipwreck, or other Diſaſter whereby the Ship may periſh, the Officers and Men are ſtrictly charged to ſtay with the Remains of the Ship, (when the ſame can be done) and to employ themſelves in ſaving what they can of her Hull, Furniture, Stores, Proviſions, &c. And, for their Encouragement, they ſhall continue in Pay, during their Attendance on that Service. If the Proviſions of the Ship are loſt, the Captain is to ſubſiſt them, and may draw Bills upon the Commiſſioners of the Victualling for the ſame.

LXI.

To draw up an Account of the Qualities of the Ship.

When the Ship comes to the Port where ſhe is to be laid up, the Captain is to aſſemble the proper Officers together, and draw up an Account of the Obſervations that have been made, during the Voyage, of the Qualities of the Ship; the Standing of her Maſts; Quantity of Balaſt; Draught of Water; beſt ſailing Trim; Stowage; Manner of Sailing; and ſuch other Circumſtances as may be neceſſary for the Information and Guidance of thoſe who may command her afterwards; which Account, ſigned by himſelf and the Officers, he is to deliver to the Commiſſioner of the Navy at the Port, and tranſmit a Duplicate of the ſame to the Navy-Board.

LXII.

To make up his Pay-Books.

When Orders ſhall come for laying up the Ship, he is, before he leaves her, to prepare five Pay-Books, with the Aſſiſtance of his Purſer, according to the Form ſet down in Page (160, 161.) together with three Alphabets; taking Care, that the Pages of the Pay-Books do agree together in the Number of Names, and to tranſmit the ſame, without any Delay, to the Navy-Board, ſigned by himſelf and ſigning Officers, that His Majeſty may not be put to an unneceſſary Charge in continuing the Ship in Pay for Want thereof; and he, and his Officers, are to attend the Payment of her.

LXIII.

A Flag Officer or Commiſſioner of the Navy to ſign Tickets.

If there be Occaſion to diſcharge any of the Men, when the Ship is under Orders to be paid off, they are to be carried to a Flag-Officer, or to a Commiſſioner of the Navy at the Out-Ports, or to the Commiſſioners of the Navy at their Office in London, who are to examine examine their Qualifications, and if they find them agreeable to their Rating, to ſign their Tickets, otherwiſe they will be paid Ordinary. And all Men who ſtand open upon the Pay-Books, at the Time of any Ship's Payment, and do not appear in Perſon to receive their own Wages, ſhall likewiſe be paid but Ordinary, unleſs it ſhall appear to the Commiſſioner who comptrolls the Pay, that they are duly Rated on the Ship's Books.

LXIV.

To deliver the Ship clear to the Officers of the Yard.

He is to be very diligent in clearing the Ship from all her Stores and Proviſions, and neither to depart from her himſelf, nor ſuffer the Officers or Men to go aſhore, until the Ship is paid, and wholly unrigged and clear, and to deliver her ſo into the Charge of the Officers of the Yard.

LXV.

To be anſwerable for the Conduct of every Body in the Ship.

Laſtly, Whereas the Charge and Command of the Ship, and of the Officers and Men ſerving therein, are entirely entruſted to the Captain, and the Welfare and good Management of the Whole does in eſpecial Manner depend upon his Oeconomy and Prudence, he is to underſtand, though the ſeveral Rules contained in the following Parts of this Book are ſorted into different Chapters, for better Order and Clearneſs, that nevertheleſs he is himſelf reſponſible for the whole Conduct and good Government of the Ship, and for the due Execution of all Regulations here ſet down, which concern the ſeveral Duties of the Officers and Company of the Ship, who are to obey him in all Things, which he ſhall direct them for His Majeſty's Service.

To be anſwerable for the Faults of his Clerk.

And whereas, by the Eſtabliſhment of the Navy, he is allowed a Clerk, he is to look upon himſelf to be accountable for all Errors or Frauds committed by the ſaid Clerk, who is regarded no otherwiſe than as his Inſtrument, and one appointed to ſerve him in the Execution of his Office.

To receive no Wages without proper Certificates, and to make good all Damages.

And, as he is not to receive his Wages, without producing Certificates from the Secretary of the Admiralty, and from the Navy, Victualling, Ordnance, and Sick and Wounded Offices, that they have nothing to object againſt him, ſo he is to expect to make good out of his Wages any Damage His Majeſty may have ſuſtained from his Neglect or Irregularity; and in Caſe of the Ship's being paid off before ſuch Diſcovery is made, to anſwer the ſame out of his Half-Pay, or be otherwiſe accountable, as the Lord High Admiral, or Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, ſhall judge proper.

Rules of Diſcipline and good Government to be obſerved on board His Majeſtys Ships of War.

Article I.

IN the firſt Place, the Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships are ſtrictly required to ſhew in themſelves a good Example of Honour and Virtue to their Officers and Men; and next, to be very vigilant in inſpecting the Behaviour of all ſuch as are under them, and to diſcountenance and ſuppreſs all diſſolute, immoral, and diſorderly Practices, and alſo ſuch as are contrary to the Rules of Diſcipline and Obedience, and to correct thoſe who are guilty of the ſame, according to the Uſage of the Sea.

Commanders to ſhew good Examples to their Men, and to puniſh Vice.

II.

The Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships are to take Care, that Divine Service be performed twice a Day on Board, according to the Liturgy of the Church of England, and a Sermon preached on Sundays, unleſs bad Weather, or other extraordinary Accidents, prevent it.

Divine Service to be regularly performed.

III. If

III.

Punishment of Swearing, &c.

If any shall be heard to Swear, Curse, or Blaspheme the Name of God, the Captain is strictly required to punish them for every Offence, by causing them to wear a wooden Collar, or some other shameful Badge of Distinction, for so long Time as he shall judge proper. If he be a Commission Officer, he shall forfeit One Shilling for each Offence, and a Warrant or Inferior Officer Six-Pence. He who is guilty of Drunkenness, if a Seaman, shall be put in Irons until he is sober, but if an Officer, he shall forfeit Two Days Pay.

And of Drunkenness.

IV.

Captains not to punish beyond Twelve Lashes, but to inform against the Offender.

No Commander shall inflict any Punishment upon a Seaman, beyond Twelve Lashes upon his bare Back with a Cat of Nine Tails, according to the ancient Practice of the Sea; but if the Fault shall deserve a greater Punishment, he is either to apply to the Commander in Chief, or inform the Secretary of the Admiralty, if the Ship is at Home, in order to the Offender's being brought to a Court-Martial, if it shall be thought proper, and in the mean Time he may put him under Confinement.

V.

Not to discharge or punish an Officer, but only suspend him.

The Captain is never, by his own Authority, to discharge a Commission or Warrant Officer, nor to punish or strike him; but if any are disobedient to Command,

Command, or behave themſelves ſo ill, that he judges them unfit for their Duty, he may ſuſpend or confine them; and when he comes in the Way of a Commander in Chief, apply to him for holding a Court-Martial; otherwiſe he is to acquaint the Secretary of the Admiralty therewith.

VI.

None under the Captain to puniſh.

The Officer who commands on board by Accident of the Captain's Abſence, (unleſs he be Abſent for a Time by Leave) ſhall not order any Correction, but Confinement; from which however he is not to releaſe the Offender, before the Captain's Return on board, and then give him an Account of the Reaſons for his ſo doing.

VII.

Articles of War to be read once a Month.

The Captain is to cauſe the Articles of War to be hung up in ſome publick Places of the Ship, and read to the Ship's Company once a Month.

Inſtructions

Inſtructions relating to the Execution of two Acts of Parliament paſſed Anno 1mo Geo. II. in Favour of Seamen employed in His Majeſty's Service.

Article I.

Voluntiers to begin Wages from their Entry, and paid Two Months Wages Advance.

WHEN any of His Majeſty's Ships ſhall be in Want of Men, and any Seaman, or able-bodied Landman, ſhall enter voluntarily with a Commiſſion Officer of the Fleet appointed to raiſe Men, and ſhall repair on board within fourteen Days, if the Place where he enters be not above One Hundred Miles diſtant from the Ship; or within the Space of Twenty Days, if the Ship be at a greater Diſtance than One Hundred Miles; or within the Space of Thirty Days, if the Diſtance be more than Two Hundred Miles, the Captain ſhall enter his Name on the Ship's Books for Wages from the Day of his Entry, and for Victuals from the Time of his Appearance; and ſo ſoon as the Ship is fully mann'd, he ſhall ſend three Liſts of the Names of all ſuch Voluntiers to the Navy-Board, in the Forms hereunto annexed, Page (162, 163, 164.) in order to their being paid Conduct-Money, (to be computed from the Place of Entry) and an Advance of Two Months Wages, before the Ship proceeds to Sea.

II. In

II.

In Caſe any of the ſaid Seamen or Landmen ſhall, at their Requeſt, be ſupplied with Slop-Cloaths or Bedding at their coming on Board, the Captain is carefully to ſet off the Value of the ſame againſt their Names in the Liſts he ſends to the Navy-Board for Payment of the Two Months Advance of Wages, in order to their deducting the ſame. May be ſupplied with Slops at firſt going on Board.

III.

When a Captain is removed from one Ship to another, and takes along with him his Servants, or any others out of the Ship; (who ſhall not be turned over by Order from the Admiralty, but ſhall voluntarily go) it is here declared, that all ſuch Perſons, and alſo Seamen entring in Exchange for others diſcharged at their own Requeſt, have no Title to the Advance of Two Months Wages, and the Captain is ſtrictly charged not to inſert any ſuch in the Liſts he ſhall make out for that Purpoſe. Seamen removed voluntarily, or entring in Exchange for others, not entitled to Advance-Money.

IV.

When the Ship ſhall have been in Commiſſion Six whole Months, if ſhe be then in any Port of Great-Britain, or on the Coaſt thereof, and not under Orders to be paid off, the Captain ſhall make out three Pay Liſts, according to the Form hereunto annexed, Page (166, 167.) containing the Names of all the inferior Officers and Seamen, belonging to the Two Months Wages in Six to be paid to inferior Officers and Seamen.

Ship under his Command, ſpecifying in ſuch Liſts the Days on which every particular Man was entered on the Ship's Books, and ſend the ſaid Liſts, ſigned by himſelf and the Signing-Officers, to the Navy-Board, in order to their paying them Two Months Wages.

V.

To be paid to their Attorneys in their Abſence.

But if, at the End of the ſaid ſix Months, the Ship ſhall be on the Coaſt of Ireland, or in Foreign Parts, the Captain ſhall then muſter his Company, and ſet down in Liſts as aforeſaid, the Names of ſuch inferior Officers and Seamen only, who ſhall deſire to have Two Months Wages paid in London to their Attorneys, and ſend the ſame Home, by the firſt ſafe Opportunity to the Navy-Board.

VI.

The ſame to be done every ſix Months, while the Ship is in Commiſſion.

When the Ship ſhall have been twelve Months in Sea-Pay, the Captain is to make out other Pay-Liſts as aforeſaid, of the Names of the inferior Officers and Seamen belonging to the Ship under his Command, and tranſmit the ſame to the Navy-Board, and ſo from Time to Time to obſerve to do the ſame at the End of every enſuing ſix Months, until the Ship ſhall be finally paid off.

VII.

Who are meant by Inferior Officers.

As to the Term, Inferior Officers, the Captain is to take Notice, that the ſame does not include any Commiſſion Officer, nor any Warrant Officer, except the Second Maſter, Surgeon's Mates, Cook, Armourer, Gunſmith, School-maſter, Maſter at Arms, Corporal, and Sail-maker.

VIII.

But notwithſtanding what is before directed, for the making out Pay-Liſts at the End of every ſix Months, for the Inferior Officers and Seamen only, in order to their being paid Two Months Wages, yet if it ſhall ſo happen, that at the End of Eighteen Months, the Ship ſhall be in any Port of Great-Britain, or on the Coaſts of the ſame, the Captain ſhall then make out Pay-Books for Twelve Months, containing the Names of all the Officers and Seamen of the Ship, and tranſmit the ſame to the Navy-Board, it being directed by the Act, that the whole Company ſhall then receive Twelve Months Pay, including what may have been advanced.

At the End of Eighteen Months, Twelve Months Wages to be paid to the whole Ship's Company.

IX.

The Captain is to make out the like Pay-Books every Time that the Ship ſhall have been Eighteen Months in Sea-Pay, beyond the Time ſhe has been cleared to, in order to the Officers and Company being paid Twelve Months Wages again, as before.

The ſame to be repeated every Eighteen Months.

X.

The Captain is to take Care, when any Inferior Officers or Voluntier Seamen are turned over into the Ship under his Command from any other Ship, not to

Not to underrate turned-over Men.

rate them on the Ship's Books in a worse Quality, or lower Degree or Station, than they served in the Ship they were removed from; and for his Guidance, he is to demand from the Commander of the Ship from which they are turned over, a List under his Hand of their Names and Qualities. He is to send Lists of the said Men to the Navy-Board, in order to their receiving two Months Wages Advance, before the Ship proceeds to Sea. But if there be more Inferior Officers than the Establishment of the Ship allows, he is immediately to acquaint the Secretary of the Admiralty therewith.

Volunteer Seamen shall be discharged for their Preferment in another Ship.

XI.

Captain to send Lists with his turned over Men.

When a Captain is ordered to turn over any Inferior Officers or Volunteer Seamen from the Ship under his Command, into any other of His Majesty's Ships, he is not only to deliver a List of their Names and Qualities to the Captain of the Ship they are removed into, but to send also compleat Pay-Lists to the Navy-Board, in order to their being paid the Wages due to them, as well as the Advance of Two Months Wages.

XII.

A whole Ship's Company turned over, not entitled to the Benefit of the Act of Parliament.

It is to be understood, that if any Ship is by Accident disabled from going to Sea, and her whole Company is removed into another Ship, the same is not to be taken to be a Turning-over within the Meaning of the Act.

XIII. For

XIII.

For a further Encouragement to Seamen who ſhall ſerve His Majeſty voluntarily, if any ſuch Seaman can at any Time get better Preferment in any other of His Majeſty's Ships, than he has in the Ship he belongs to, the Captain he ſerves with is hereby required to diſcharge him to the Captain deſiring him, upon the ſaid Captain's giving him a good Man in his Room.

Voluntier Seamen ſhall be diſcharged for their Preferment in another Ship.

XIV.

The Captain is frequently to make known to his Ship's Company, that no Letters of Attorney made by them to empower Perſons to receive their Wages, are valid, unleſs they be made revocable, and ſigned before, and atteſted by, the Captain or Commander, and one other of the ſigning Officers of the Ship to which they belong; or by the Clerk of the Cheque of ſome of the Dock-Yards, or by the Mayor or chief Magiſtrate of ſome Corporation.

No Letter of Attorney valid, unleſs atteſted by the Captain, Clerk of the Cheque, or Mayor of a Town.

XV.

He is to diſcourage the Seamen of his Ship from ſelling any Part of their Wages, by all Ways and Means poſſible, and never to atteſt to the Letter of Attorney of any Seaman, until he is fully ſatisfied that the ſame is not granted in Conſideration of Money given for the Purchaſe of his Wages.

Captain to diſcourage Seamen from ſelling their Wages.

XVI. When

XVI.

Tickets of deceaſed Seamen to be ſent to the Navy-Baard.

When any inferior Officer or Seaman dies, the Captain is forthwith to make out a Ticket for the Time of his Service, and ſend the ſame, by the firſt ſafe Conveyance, to the Navy-Board, in order to the Wages being forthwith paid to the Executors or Adminiſtrators of the Deceaſed.

XVII.

Captain to receive on board Seamen diſtreſſed in Foreign Parts.

When any of His Majeſty's Ships are in Foreign Parts, and His Majeſty's Governors, Miniſters, or Conſuls, or any Two or more Britiſh Merchants, ſhall apply to the Captain to receive any Sea-faring Men or Boys, Subjects of Great-Britain or Ireland, who ſhall, by Shipwreck, Capture, or other unavoidable Accident, be driven into thoſe Parts, he is to receive them on board, and to bear ſuch as come within his Complement for Wages and Victuals, and the reſt for Victuals only: He is ſtrictly charged, upon his meeting with any of His Majeſty's Ships, to inform himſelf from the Captain, if ſhe is ſhort of her Complement, and to put as many of his Supernumeraries on board her, as ſhall make up her Complement, and to continue to do the ſame, until they are all diſpoſed of; but if he ſhall not meet with any of His Majeſty's Ships, he is then to diſcharge and ſet aſhore the ſaid Supernumeraries at any Port in Great-Britain, that he ſhall be bound to.

Rules for the Cure of Sick or Hurt Seamen on board their own Ships.

Article I.

CONvenient Room ſhall be made between Decks, in all His Majeſty's Ships, for the Reception of Sick or Hurt Seamen, whither they are to be removed with their Hammacoes and Bedding, when the Surgeon ſhall adviſe the ſame to be neceſſary. A convenient Place to be ſet apart for Sick Men.

II.

The Captain is to appoint ſome of the Ship's Company to attend and ſerve the Sick Men Night and Day by Turns, and to keep the Place clean. Perſons to attend the Sick.

III.

The Cooper may, by the Captain's Direction, make out of any old Staves and Hoops, Buckets with Covers, for the neceſſary Occaſions of the Sick Men; and if any of them have fractured Bones, or ſuch Ailments as require their lying in Cradles, the Carpenter may make ſuch a Number as ſhall be neceſſary. Conveniencies to be made for the Sick Men.

IV.

All Ships of War, furniſhed with Fiſhing-Tackle, being in ſuch Places where Fiſh is to be had, the Captain is to employ ſome of the Company in Fiſhing; Freſh Fiſh to be caught for the Sick Men.

and the Fish, which ſhall be caught, ſhall be diſtributed daily to ſuch Perſons as are ſick, or upon Recovery; and if there be any Surplus, the ſame ſhall be diſtributed by Turns amongſt the Meſſes of the Officers and Seamen, without Favour or Partiality, and gratis, without any Deduction of their Allowance of Proviſions on that Account.

Rules to be obſerved in ſending Sick or Hurt Seamen out of His Majeſty's Ships for Cure.

Article I.

In what Caſes ſick Men are to be ſent out of the Ship.

NONE are to be ſent into the Hoſpitals, either attending the Fleet, or aſhore, but whoſe Diſtempers or Hurts are ſuch, as may make it inconvenient to have them kept on board their own Ships.

II.

Sick Men to be ſent aſhore by Ticket, and their Cloaths and Bedding along with them.

When any Men are ordered into the Hoſpitals aſhore, their Cloaths and Bedding are to be ſent along with them, together with a Ticket directed to the Agent, expreſſing their Names, Entry, and Numbers, on the Ship's Books, with the Quality of their Diſeaſe or Hurt; which Ticket is to be ſigned by the

Captain

Captain, Surgeon, and other Signing Officers of the Ship.

III.

If any of the ſaid Men ſhall be in Want of proper Neceſſaries at their going away from the Ship, the Captain may order the Purſer to ſupply them out of the Slop-Cloaths.

Captain may order them Slops, if needful.

IV.

The Captain is to take Care to ſend the ſick Men aſhore under the Charge of a diſcreet Officer, accompanied by the Surgeon or one of his Mates, and that they be carefully ſecured from the Weather, and to land them at the neareſt Place to the Hoſpital, and thoſe Officers are to ſee them ſafely conveyed thither with proper Carriages, or otherwiſe, at the Expence of the Hoſpital.

Care to be taken in Landing, and carrying them to the Hoſpital.

V.

The Captain is to ſend a Commiſſion Officer to the Hoſpital twice a Week (on the Muſter Days) with a Boat, to receive ſuch of his own Men from the Agent as may be recovered. And he ſhall likewiſe receive ſuch other recovered Men (whoſe Ships are not in the Way) as the Agent ſhall deſire, unleſs any appear to be unfit for Service; in which Caſe he is to give a Certificate thereof to the Agent for his Juſtification.

A Commiſſion Officer to go aſhore to the Muſters, and receive the recovered Men.

VI.

Captain to receive recovered Men of other Ships sent to him by the Agent.

He is likewise to receive such recovered Men, as an Agent of the Sick and Wounded shall send to him, though the Ship be at a distant Place from the Hospital, unless they be unserviceable; and, in that Case, shall give the said Men Certificates of his Refusal, and the Reason.

VII.

To return the said Men to their own Ships; but if they are full, to keep them, or spare them to other Ships.

If the Captain, who receives recovered Men belonging to another Ship, shall meet with that Ship, he shall return them to their own Ship, bearing them only for Victuals; but if their proper Ship shall at that Time have her full Complement of Men, he is then to enter them as Part of his own Ship's Company, if he be in Want of Men, or otherwise dispose of them to such of His Majesty's Ships as may not have compleated their Complements, where they are to be borne for Wages, from the Time they were received from sick Quarters.

VIII.

Agents may supply sick Men with Slops, if their Ship is out of the Way.

If the Agent shall certify to the Captain, that he has supplied any sick Men with Cloaths, whilst they were in Quarters, of which they were absolutely in Want, he is to charge the same against their Names on the Ship's Books, in order to its being defalked out of their Wages; but the Agent is not to do it whilst the Ship is in Port, but to apply to the Captain to be supplied out of the Slop-Cloaths on board.

IX. If

IX.

If any Man, who is put aſhore for Cure, does not return on Board his Ship as ſoon as he is diſcharged from ſick Quarters, or is left in ſick Quarters when the Ship departs, a Query is to be put againſt his Name, which ſhall be a Stop to the Payment of his Wages, until he proves that he was not able to get on Board his own Ship, but entered immediately into ſome other of His Majeſty's Ships, or was diſcharged from ſick Quarters, as unfit for Service.

A Query to be ſet againſt the Names of ſuch as do not return to their Ships.

X.

The Captain is to correſpond with the Commiſſioners of the Sick and Wounded, to know whether any of his Men in Quarters are Dead, Run, Diſcharged, or otherwiſe diſpoſed of, in order to his noting the ſame upon his Books.

Captain to correſpond with the Sick and Wounded Office, about his ſick Men.

XI.

Admirals and Commanders in Chief, as alſo the Commiſſioner of the Navy, at the Ports where Hoſpitals are eſtabliſhed, are to viſit them frequently, and to ſee how the Men under Cure are treated, as well with Reſpect to the Attendance of the Phyſician and Surgeon, as alſo to their Food, Lodging, and other Circumſtances. And the better to come at the Knowledge of any Abuſes, they are to examine the Men, and hear their Complaints, and to redreſs themſelves little Irregularities upon the Spot; but if they diſcover any any wilful Mismanagement, they are to represent it to the Admiralty.

XII.

Captain to take Care of the sick Men in Foreign Parts.

THERE shall be allowed to every Man serving in Cases of absolute Necessity, but the Purser is strictly charged not to keep any Officer at whole Allowance, whilst the rest of the Ship's Company are put to short Allowance, all are to be equal in Proportion to the Victualling

In case there shall be a Necessity of putting sick or wounded Men ashore for Cure in Foreign Parts, where there are none of His Majesty's Hospitals, nor any Correspondence of the Sick and Wounded Office to take Charge of them, the Captain is to provide them with proper Food, Lodging, and other Necessaries, (the Surgeon of the Ship, and his Assistants, attending on them in what relates to their Duty) and may draw Bills on the Commissioners of the Sick and Wounded for what Expence he shall be at, passing his Accounts thereof at the End of the Voyage. But as nothing will be allowed him thereon beyond the usual Establishment, he is, before he sails on a Foreign Voyage, to inform himself thereof from the Sick and Wounded Office, and receive from thence what Rules and Instructions may be proper for his Knowledge and Guidance.

Of the Provisions.

Article I.

THERE ſhall be allowed to every Man ſerving in His Majeſty's Ships, a daily Proportion of Proviſions, according as is expreſſed in the following Table, viz. Allowance of Proviſions.

	Biſcuit Pounds Averdupois.	Beer Gallons Wine Meaſure.	Beef Pounds Averdupois.	Pork Pounds Averdupois.	Peaſe Pint Winchester Meaſure.	Oatmeal Pint Winchester Meaſure.	Butter Ounces.	Cheeſe Ounces.

II.

It is left to the Diſcretion of the Commanders of Squadrons to ſhorten the aforeſaid Allowance of Proviſions, according to the Exigence of the Service, taking Care that the Men be punctually paid for the ſame. The like Power is given to Captains of ſingle Ships, in Caſes of abſolute Neceſſity; but the Purſer is ſtrictly charged not to ſupply any Officer at whole Allowance, whilſt the reſt of the Company are at ſhort; but all are to be equal in Point of Victualling. May be ſhortned, when the Service require it.

III. In

III.

Change of some Species in Foreign Voyages.

In Case it shall be thought for the Service to alter any of the aforegoing Particulars of Provisions in Ships employed on Foreign Voyages, it is to be observed, that a Pint of Wine, or half a Pint of Brandy, Rum, or Arrack, hold Proportion to a Gallon of Beer; four Pounds of Flower, or three Pounds, of the same with a Pound of Raisins; half a Pound of Currants, or half a Pound of Beef-Suet pickled, are equal to a Four Pound Piece of Beef, or Two Pound Piece of Pork with Pease; half a Pound of Rice is equal to a Pint of Oatmeal; a Pint of Olive Oil is equal to a Pound of Butter, or to two Pounds of Suffolk Cheese; and two Thirds of a Pound of Cheshire Cheese is equal to one Pound of Suffolk.

IV.

Cask of Flesh to have the Contents marked on the Head.

The Beef provided for His Majesty's Ships, is to be cut into Four Pound Pieces, and the Pork into Two Pound Pieces; and no unusual Pieces are to be put up, such as Leg Bones, Shins of Oxen, Cheeks of Hogs, Ox Hearts, &c. and every Cask of Provisions is to have the Contents thereof marked on the Head.

V.

How the Flesh Meat is to hold out in Weight.

And to judge whether the Flesh, served to His Majesty's Ships, holds out in just Weight, the following Rule is to be observed, viz. Every Twenty Eight Pieces of Beef, cut for Four Pound Pieces, taken out of the Cask as they rise, and the Salt shaken off, are to weigh One Hundred Pounds Averdupois; and every Fifty-six Pieces of Pork, cut for Two Pound Pieces, and taken out and shaken in the like Manner, are to weigh One Hundred and Four Pounds; and therefore, if according to this Standard, upon the weighing a whole Cask of Beef or Pork, in the Presence of Two or more of the Warrant Officers of the Ship, there shall be found a Deficiency of Weight, the Captain may order the Purser to issue to the Seamen so much more Beef or Pork, as shall make up the Deficiency; and upon producing the Oath of one of the said Officers, together with the Commander's Certificate, that he did, by his Order, issue to the Ship's Company the like Number of Pieces of Beef or Pork, in lieu of the Shortness of Weight, he shall have Credit for the same upon his Accounts.

Change of some Species in Foreign Voyages.

VII.

If it shall happen that any of His Majesty's Ships shall be in Want of Pork, the Captain is to order three Pounds of Beef to be issued to the Men, in lieu of a Two Pound Piece of Pork.

Beef to be issued in defect of Pork.

VII.

For the better Preservation of the Health of the Seamen, it is ordered, that one Day in every Week, there shall be issued out to them a Proportion of Flower and Suet in lieu of Beef; but this is not to extend beyond Four Months Victualling at one Time, nor shall the Flower and Suet in lieu of Beef.

Purser

Purſer receive any Allowance for Flower or Suet kept longer on board than that Time. And there ſhall be ſupplied once a Year, from the Victualling-Office, a Proportion of Canvas for Pudding Bags, after the Rate of one Ell to every ſixteen Men.

VIII.

Only Three Months Butter and Cheeſe for Foreign Voyages.

In the Victualling His Majeſty's Ships for Foreign Voyages, there ſhall be only ſupplied Three Months Butter and Cheeſe, the Remainder of thoſe Species being to be made up in Olive Oil; but for the Mediterranean, the Purſers are to be ſupplied with Credit, or Foreign Money (if Credit cannot be had) for procuring Oil abroad.

IX.

Allowance of Water-Caſk.

There ſhall be allowed to every Ship, in Home Voyages, one Tun of Caſk for Water Caſk, Iron bound, with one Bundle of Wood-Hoops, and one of Flags (if required) for every Hundred Men per Month, and ſo proportionably; but in Foreign Voyages, there ſhall be allowed ſuch farther Quantity of Water Caſk, as the Ship can conveniently ſtow, or ſhall be thought neceſſary.

X.

Beer Caſk to have the Contents marked on the Head.

In Ships employed in Home Service, half the Quantity of Beer taken on Board ſhall be contained in Iron-bound Caſk; but in Foreign Voyages, Three Fourths of the Beer Caſk ſhall be Iron-bound. And no Caſk ſhall be be uſed for Beer, but what have been guaged by a Sworn Gauger, who is to mark on the Head the Contents in Gallons, Wincheſter Meaſure.

XI.

All Caſk, ſupplied to Ships bound on Foreign Voyages, whether for Beer, or for Water, ſhall be new, to prevent any Occaſion of buying Caſk Abroad. All Caſk to be new for Foreign Voyages.

XII.

Though all Warrants for Victualling do properly iſſue from the Lord High Admiral, or Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty; yet, if any of His Majeſty's Ships ſhall happen to come into Port in Want of Proviſions, the Warrant of a Commander in Chief ſhall be ſufficient to the Agent, or other Inſtrument of the Victualling, to ſupply the Quantity wanted; and, in urgent Caſes, where Delay may be hurtful, the Warrant of the Captain of the Ship ſhall be of equal Effect. Proviſions to be ſupplied by Order of the Commander in Chief. Or of a Captain, in urgent Caſes.

XIII.

When any Veſſels come on board with Proviſions, or other Stores, they are not to be ſuffered to loiter by the Ship's Side, but forthwith to be unladen and ſent away; nor ſhall the Captain of one Ship ſtop a Veſſel that is conſigned to another Ship, or take out any Part of her Lading. Victualling Veſſels to be diſpatched, and not ſtopped.

XIV.

Provisions to be sent on Board without Charge to the Purser, and delivered into the Slings of the Ship.

All Supplies of Provisions are to be put on Board the Ships without any Charge to the Purser for Lighterage, Porterage, or otherwise, and with all the Dispatch possible; and the Masters of the Vessels, or Lighters, by whom the Provisions are sent, shall see the same put into the Slings or Tackles of the Ship they are consigned to, by careful Men belonging to the Ship; and shall likewise deliver to the Captain a perfect Bill of Lading under the Hand of the Victualling Officer, that he may see if the Whole is brought on board.

XV.

Provisions damaged thro' Carelessness, to be paid for.

If any Provisions slip out of the Slings, or are otherwise damaged, or lost, by Malice, or Carelessness of the Ship's Company, the Captain is to charge the Value against the Wages of the Offender, and give a Certificate to the Purser, expressing how the same happened, with the Name of the Offender, and the Sum charged against him, that the Purser may be allowed it on his Accounts.

XVI.

No Provisions to be refused, till surveyed.

No Provisions, sent off for the Supply of His Majesty's Ships, shall be refused on Pretence of their being old and unfit for keeping, unless there shall be reasonable Ground to object against any such Provisions; and, in that Case, the Captain or Commanding Officer shall

ſhall firſt cauſe the ſame to be ſurveyed by the proper Officers, who are faithfully to report to him under their Hands, the Condition thereof; and if the ſaid Proviſions ſhall then appear to be unfit for the Uſe of the Ship, he is to return them to the Officer of the Victualling who ſent them off, together with the original Survey, for his Juſtification.

Proviſions to be ſent on Board without Charge to the Purſer, and delivered into the Stores of the Ship.

XVII.

The Captain is frequently to order the proper Officers to inſpect into the Condition of the Proviſions, eſpecially in Foreign Voyages, and if the Bread proves damp, to have it aired upon the Quarter Deck or Poop; and alſo to examine the Fleſh Caſk; and if any Pickle be leaked out, to have new made and put in, and the Caſk made tight and ſecure.

Proviſions to be frequently looked into.

XVIII.

If the Purſer of a Ship ſhall have ſupplied the Purſer of another Ship at Sea with Proviſions, by Order in Writing from his Captain, the Receipt of the Purſer who received the Proviſions, together with the Captain's Order, ſhall be ſufficient Warrant to the Agent, or other Inſtrument of the Victualling, at the next Port the Ship ſhall put into, to ſupply him with the like Quantity, upon producing the ſaid Order and Receipt.

Proviſions ſpared to another Ship, to be made good by a new Supply from the Agent.

 XIX. When

XIX.

Fresh Meat twice a Week in Port.

When any of His Majesty's Ships shall come into Port, either at Home or Abroad, where there is an Officer of the Victualling, they shall be supplied Two Days in the Week with fresh Beef or Mutton, one Day in lieu of salt Beef, and the other in lieu of salt Pork, when it can be conveniently done, for which the Captains are to send their Boats. And it is to be observed, That Three Pounnds of Mutton are to be accounted equal to a Four Pound Piece of Beef, or to a Two Pound Piece of Pork with Pease.

XX.

Prize Provisions may be issued to His Majesty's Ships, if in Want.

When any Prizes shall be taken from an Enemy in Foreign Parts, and it shall be judged necessary by the Commander in Chief to supply the Wants of His Majesty's Ships out of their Provisions, the same shall be first regularly surveyed, and such Quantities thereof as shall be found good in their Kind, may be issued to the Pursers, and they be charged therewith. But no Part thereof shall be served out to the Men, whilst any of His Majesty's Provisions of the same Species are remaining, nor shall any Allowance be made for the Damage that may accrue to them in keeping. And, as to their Value, the same Price shall be paid, as is allowed to Pursers who have Credit upon the Balance of their Accounts.

Of the Payment of Short-Allowance Money.

Freſh Meat ſhall be ſerved in Port.

Article I.

WHEN Money is ordered for the Payment of Short-Allowance, or the Ship comes into Port to be laid up, the Captain, with the Aſſiſtance of the Purſer, is to cauſe three Liſts, with an Alphabet thereto, to be prepared according to the Form in Page (168, 169.) containing the Names of the Officers and Seamen belonging to the Ship, within the Time of Short-Allowance; and, after comparing the ſame with the Muſter and Sick Books, and being ſatisfied that they agree together, he is to ſend them, ſigned by himſelf, the Purſer, Maſter, and Boatſwain, to the Commiſſioners of the Victualling, or to their Officer appointed to pay the ſame.

The Captain to make out Short-Allowance Liſts.

II.

But if the Ship is in Foreign Parts, where there is no Agent Victualler, the Captain ſhall cauſe the ſaid Liſts to be made out every three Months, and duly examined and ſigned; and, after caſting the Sums, due to thoſe only who are then belonging to the Ship, into Money, he is to preſent the ſaid Liſts to the Commander in Chief, or Senior Captain, who ſhall give his Warrant to the Purſer, to take up ſo much Money,

To be paid every three Months Abroad.

as the Total ſhall amount to, upon the beſt Exchange, and draw Bills upon the Commiſſioners of the Victualling for the ſame.

III.

Commander in Chief to atteſt Bills, and comptroll the Payment.

The Commander in Chief, or Senior Captain, is to atteſt the Bill ſo drawn, and certify the Currency of the Exchange, and comptroll the Payment of the ſaid Money to the Ship's Company, and certify the Payment thereof at the Foot of the Liſts, and how much Money remains unpaid.

IV.

Surplus of Money to go to the next Payment.

Before any ſucceeding Payments, the Commander in Chief, or Senior Captain, is to ſatisfy himſelf what Surplus remained in the Purſer's Hands after the preceding Payment, and abate ſo much, in his Warrant to him to take up Money for the next Payment.

V.

Captain to do as the Commander in Chief, if alone.

If the Ship is alone, the Captain is to do what is directed in the foregoing Articles to the Commander in Chief, or Senior Captain.

VI.

Purſer to ſend the Liſts Home.

The Purſer is, by the firſt Opportunity after a Payment, to tranſmit Home to the Commiſſioners of the Victualling, one of the Liſts, and another by the next ſafe Conveyance.

VII. All

VII.

All Money paid to Seamen, in Foreign Coin, for Short-Allowance, ſhall be paid them according to Sterling Value, and they ſhall have the Benefit of the Exchange.

The Ship's Company to have the Benefit of the Exchange.

VIII.

It is ſtrictly forbid to all Officers or others, to concern themſelves directly or indirectly in buying the Seamens Short-Allowance Money; and the Officer, who has the Payment of the ſame, is charged to pay the Parties themſelves, without any Regard to Notes, or any other Obligation whatſoever.

The buying Short-Allowance Money forbid.

Of Slop-Cloaths.

Article I.

THE Captain or Commander, upon the Ship's being fitted out for the Sea, whether on a Voyage, or Channel Service, at any Time on the Ship's being in Want of Slops, is moſt ſtrictly enjoined to make timely Application, before the Ship proceeds to Sea, to the Slopſeller, or to his Agent at the Port where ſhe is, for ſuch a Quantity of each Species of Slops, as he concludes may be needful for the Uſe of Slops to be provided in due Time, and ſuch as do not agree with the Sample to be rejected.

of the Ship's Complement, thereby to prevent, as much as poſſible, the purchaſing Slops Abroad, or the Seamen ſuffering for Want of them: And when any Slop Cloaths, or Bedding, are ſent on board ſuch Ship, one Parcel ſhall be of ſuch as have been viewed, and marked with the Navy-Office Seal; by which Pattern the Captain, with the Aſſiſtance of the Maſter, Boatſwain, and Purſer, is to compare the reſt, ſo ſoon as they come on board, and to return back whatever Goods do not agree in Kind or Goodneſs with the Sample. But if the Ship ſails before the Examination can be taken, he is not to iſſue any inferior Goods to the Men, but to return them to the Contractor or his Agent, when he comes into Port, unleſs there ſhall be an extraordinary Want of them; in which Caſe, the ſaid Officers are to rate them according to their beſt Skill and Judgment, as well in Right to the Slopſeller, as to the Men, and to make Abatements in the Price, proportionable to what they are inferior to the Patterns.

If not examined, and any prove inferior in Goodneſs, to be returned, or Abatement made in the Price.

II.

If any Seaman ſhall be brought on board to ſerve His Majeſty in Time of a Preſs, and he ſhall be deſtitute of Neceſſaries, the Captain may order him immediately to be ſupplied with Cloaths or Bedding, not exceeding one Month's Pay in Value.

Seamen may have Slops as far as a Month's Wages, in Time of Preſs.

III. None

III.

None are to receive a ſecond Supply, until they ſhall have ſerved full Two Months, and then not to above the Value of Ten Shillings, whether it be in Slops or Bedding; and ſo in Proportion every Two Months Ten Shillings more, if they ſhall want Neceſſaries, to the End of the Voyage.

May have Slops once in Two Months, as far as Ten Shillings Value.

IV.

All Slop-Cloaths, Dead Mens Cloaths, and Bedding, are to be iſſued out to the Men publickly upon Deck, in the Preſence of the Officers and Company. And as on the one Hand, the Captain is not to ſuffer any one to be ſupplied with them, who is not really in Want, ſo is he to oblige thoſe who are ragged, or in Want of Apparel or Bedding, to receive ſuch Neceſſaries as they want, not exceeding the aforegoing Regulation.

Slops to be iſſued out publickly.

V.

The Captain is to take Care to note upon his Muſter and Pay-Books, the Value of the Cloaths or Bedding every Man ſhall have been ſupplied with; and likewiſe to keep a ſeparate Slop-Book, according to the Form in Page (170, 171, 172.) and before the Payment of the Ship, or on his Removal, he is to ſend the ſaid Book to the Comptroller of the Navy, ſigned under his own Hand, and alſo by the Maſter, Boatſwain, and Purſer, or any Two of them.

Captain to keep a Slop-Book.

VI.

Value of Slops to be noted on Seamens Tickets.

Upon the Diſcharge of any Man by Ticket, the Captain is to take Care that there be noted on the Ticket, in Words, the Value of the Cloaths he has been ſupplied with.

VII.

Captain to procure Slops in Foreign Parts, if neceſſary.

In Caſe the Neceſſities of the Men ſhall require the Buying of Cloaths in Foreign Parts, the Captain is to ſee that they be as near the Kind uſed in the Navy as poſſible, and that moderate Rates be ſet upon them. He is to ſend, by the firſt Opportunity, an Invoice of the ſaid Goods, with the Prices, to the Navy Board, and to charge them diſtinctly in his Books, as he does the other Slops, under the Head of the Perſon ſupplying them.

VIII.

Contractors to allow Twelve-pence in the Pound for keeping the Slops.

Contractors for Slops are to allow to the Purſer Twelve-pence in the Pound, for his Pains in keeping and iſſuing out their Cloaths, and managing their Accounts. But if any Difference ariſes between them, the Contractors are at Liberty to entruſt their Goods to the Charge of the Maſter, or any other Officer of the Ship.

IX.

Perſon who keeps the Slops to be accountable to the Contractors.

The Purſer, or other Officer entruſted, ſhall enter into Bond to the Contractors for the faithful Diſcharge of his Truſt, and at the End of the Voyage, and before before the Payment of the Ship, to render them a juſt Account of the Goods committed to his Charge; and he is not to receive the Payment of his Wages, without Certificates from them, of their having no Claims upon him.

X.

Bedding being furniſhed by His Majeſty, the Captain muſt demand no more Beds than he foreſees will probably be iſſued, and take Care that thoſe, which are ſent on board, be anſwerable in Goodneſs and Dimenſions to the Contract. If any remain unſold at the End of the Voyage, the Purſer is to deliver them into the Charge of the Store-keeper of the Yard where the Ship is laid up.

No more Beds to be demanded than are neceſſary.

XI.

When any one dies aboard, his Cloaths and other Effects in the Ship may be ſold by Auction, and the Produce thereof charged againſt the Names of the Buyers on the Muſter and Pay-Books, and a diſtinct Account kept of the ſame in the Slop-Book, expreſſing the Perſon's Name that died; the Particulars of the Effects; the Rates they were ſold at; and the Buyers Names, with the Numbers on the Books, to the End that the Pay-Maſter may deduct and detain the Money for the Uſe of the Executors or Adminiſtrators of the Deceaſed. The Purſer is to be allowed Twelvepence in the Pound for his Pains, who is to give the Executors or Adminiſtrators of the Deceaſed, a particular

XII.

Seamen to be reſtrained in purchaſing Dead Officers Cloaths.

No Seamen ſhall be permitted to bid for dead Officers Cloaths that are above their Wear, or be ſuffered to bid for any Effects beyond their real Value, according to the Judgment of the Maſter and Purſer, who ſhall be preſent; nor to purchaſe more than the Wages due to them can anſwer, agreeable to the Allowance of Slop-Cloaths.

XIII.

On Death, &c. of a Purſer, Slops to be ſurveyed, and delivered to the Succeſſor.

Upon the Death or Removal of a Purſer, a Survey is to be taken by the ſame Officers who ſurvey the Proviſions and Stores, of the Slops, Dead Mens Cloaths, and Bedding, that remained in his Hands, which are to be delivered over to the ſucceeding Purſer by Inventory, in which are to be diſtinguiſhed ſuch as are damaged and unſerviceable, and a Copy entered in the Slop-Book, ſigned by the Officers employed in the Survey.

Of Pilotage.

Article I.

WHEN any of His Majesty's Ships are bound out of the River of Thames, or from the Nore, the Captain is to apply timely to the Navy-Board for a Pilot, and not to employ any other Person, but who shall be sent to him from the Trinity-House of Deptford-Strond. But when the Ship is to depart from the Downs to the River of Thames or Medway, the Captain is to employ a Pilot belonging to the Society of Pilots at Dover.

What Pilots to employ going out, or coming into the Thames or Medway.

II.

The Captain is never to take a Pilot on board, but when the same is absolutely necessary, nor to bear him longer than is requisite for the Safety of the Ship; and when the Service is over, he is to discharge him, and give him a Certificate of the Time he was employed.

Captain not to take Pilots unnecessarily.

III.

But when the Service the Ship is employed on, is of that Nature as to require the constant Attendance of a Pilot on board, the Captain is then to bear him within the allowed Complement, and to rate him Pilot upon the Books.

Constant Pilots to be borne within the Complement.

IV.

Master or Mate of the Ship may act as Pilot, if none to be got.

When the Ship comes into Pilot-Water, where Pilots are neceſſary, and have been uſually allowed, and no Pilots can poſſibly be got, the Maſter or Mate of the Ship may, with the Conſent of the Captain, undertake the Pilotage of the Ship, and ſhall be allowed, for his Encouragement, half the Allowance that is made to a Pilot.

Of Convoys.

Article I.

Commander to give Inſtructions to his Convoy.

WHEN any Commander is appointed to convoy the Trade of His Majeſty's Subjects to any Place, he muſt apply to the Secretary of the Admiralty for a ſufficient Number of printed Books of Inſtructions; and, after ſetting down therein the private Signals to be made upon meeting after Separation, and ſuch other additional Rules as he ſhall think proper, he is (before he ſails) to deliver them out gratis, dated and ſigned by himſelf, to the Maſters of all the Merchant Ships, or other Veſſels, that are to go along with him.

II.

To ſend a Liſt of his Convoy to the Admiralty.

He is to inform himſelf exactly, and ſet down in a Liſt according to the Form in Page (173.) the Names of all the Merchant Ships, or other Veſſels, that are to proceed under his Convoy; and to ſend a Copy of the ſaid Liſt to the Secretary of the Admiralty, before he ſails.

III.

He is ſtrictly forbid to receive any Money, or other Gratification, from any Maſters of Ships under his Convoy, on any Pretence whatſoever, or to ſuffer any one elſe in the Ship to do the ſame. To receive no Gratification.

IV.

All Commanders, who have Merchant Ships under their Care, are ſtrictly forbidden to chaſe out of Sight of their Convoys, but they are to be watchful in defending them from any Attack or Surprize; and if any of them ſhall be diſtreſſed by Weather, or other Accident, to afford them all neceſſary Aſſiſtance. To keep in Sight of, and protect the Convoy.

V.

If any Maſter of a Ship ſhall behave himſelf ſo negligently, as to delay the Convoy on his Account, or ſhall abandon the ſame, or be any Ways diſobedient to the Inſtructions eſtabliſhed for the good Government thereof, the Commander is to note his Name, as alſo the Ship, and the Owner, and tranſmit the ſame, with a Narration of the Fact, to the Secretary of the Admiralty, by the firſt Opportunity. To inform againſt Maſters of Ships miſbehaving themſelves.

VI.

The Captain commanding a Convoy, ſhall carry a Top-Light in the Night, the better to prevent Separation. To wear a Top-Light.

VII. The

VII.

May order his Signals to be repeated.

The Commander in Chief of a Convoy may direct his Signals to be repeated by as many of the Ships of War under his Command, as he ſhall think fit, when he has ſuch a Number of Merchant Ships under his Care, as may make the ſame Convenient.

VIII.

Rules for different Convoys to keep together.

When different Convoys ſail at the ſame Time out of Port, or join at Sea, they are to keep Company ſo long as their Courſes lie together, for the general Good. And on thoſe Occaſions, the eldeſt Commander of a Convoy ſhall command in the firſt Poſt; the next eldeſt Commander of a Convoy, to the ſecond Poſt; and ſo on to the Number of Convoys that may happen to ſail together. Nor is any private Captain in Company, though elder than ſome of the Commanders of a Convoy, to break in upon this Diſpoſition, or think himſelf injured thereby, it not being intended to his Prejudice, but to preſerve Order and good Government amongſt the ſeveral Convoys while they are together.

IX.

Commanders of different Convoys to wear Lights, and repeat Signals, as Flag-Officers.

He who commands in the firſt Poſt ſhall wear the Lights of that Poſt, and make Signals in Sailing. The Captains commanding in the ſecond and third Poſts, ſhall wear the Lights of thoſe Poſts; and all repeat the Signals in order, as is done by the Flag-Officers.

X. When

X.

When different Convoys ſail in Company, each Commander is to lead his Convoy, and they are all to keep together, like Diviſions of a Fleet. And when they come to ſeparate, the Commander, who leaves Company, is to put Abroad his Colours, and fire four Guns, all of a Side, at the Diſtance of Time uſed in a Fog, as a Signal of Separation.

Convoys to ſail like Diviſions. Signal to be made at Separation.

XI.

The Commanders of His Majeſty's Convoys are required to receive under their Care all ſuch Ships of His Majeſty's Allies or Friends, whoſe Maſters ſhall deſire it, and be ready to ſail with them, and give them equal Protection with thoſe of His Majeſty's Subjects, from the Ships of any Nation in War with His Majeſty.

Commanders of Convoys to take Care of the Ships of Friends or Allies.

Of Salutes.

Article I.

WHEN a Flag-Officer ſalutes the Admiral and Commander in Chief of the Fleet, he is to give him Fifteen Guns; but when Captains ſalute him, they are to give him Seveenteen Guns.

Salutes to the Admiral of the Fleet.

II.

Return by the Admiral of the Fleet. The Admiral or Commander in Chief of the Fleet is to return Two Guns leſs to Flag-Officers, and Four leſs to Captains.

III.

Salutes of Flag-Officers to each other. Flag-Officers ſaluting their Superior or Senior Officer, are to give him Thirteen Guns.

IV.

Return by Flag-Officers. Flag-Officers are to return an equal Number of Guns to Flag-Officers bearing their Flags on the ſame Maſt, and two Guns leſs to the reſt, as alſo to Captains.

V.

Salutes to Flag-Officers from Captains. When a Captain ſalutes an Admiral of the White or Blue, he is to give him Fifteen Guns; but to Vice and Rear-Admirals, Thirteen Guns.

VI.

Flag-Officers not to return Salutes 'till all have finiſhed. When a Flag-Officer is ſaluted by Two or more of His Majeſty's Ships, he is not to return the Salute 'till all have finiſhed, and then to do it with ſuch a reaſonable Number of Guns as he ſhall judge proper.

VII. He

VII.

In caſe of the meeting of two Squadrons, the two Chiefs only are to exchange Salutes. And if ſingle Ships meet a Squadron conſiſting of more than one Flag, only the principal Flag is to be ſaluted. Only the Chief of a Squadron to be ſaluted.

VIII.

No Salutes ſhall be repeated by the ſame Ships, unleſs there has been a Separation of ſix Months at the leaſt. No Repetition of Salutes in leſs than ſix Months.

IX.

None of His Majeſty's Ships of War, commanded only by Captains, ſhall give or receive Salutes from one another, in whatſoever Part of the World they meet. Captains not to ſalute one another.

X.

A Flag Officer commanding in Chief ſhall be ſaluted, upon his firſt hoiſting of his Flag, by all the Ships preſent, with ſuch a Number of Guns as is allowed by the Firſt, Third, or Fifth Articles. Flag-Officer to be ſaluted upon firſt hoiſting his Flag.

XI.

When any of His Majeſty's Ships ſhall meet with any Ship or Ships belonging to any Foreign Prince or State, within His Majeſty's Seas, (which extend to Cape Finiſterre) it is expected, that the ſaid Foreign Ships do ſtrike their Topſail, and take in their Flag, in Foreigners to ſtrike their Flag in the Britiſh Seas.

Acknowledgment of His Majeſty's Sovereignty in thoſe Seas; and if any ſhall refuſe or offer to reſiſt, it is enjoined to all Flag-Officers and Commanders to uſe their utmoſt Endeavours to compel them thereto, and not ſuffer any Diſhonour to be done to His Majeſty. And if any of His Majeſty's Subjects ſhall ſo much forget their Duty, as to omit ſtriking their Top-ſail in paſſing by His Majeſty's Ships, the Name of the Ship and Maſter, and from whence, and whither bound, together with Affidavits of the Fact, are to be ſent up to the Secretary of the Admiralty, in order to their being proceeded againſt in the Admiralty Court. And it is to be obſerved, That in His Majeſty's Seas, His Majeſty's Ships are in no wiſe to ſtrike to any; and that in other Parts, no Ship of His Majeſty's is to ſtrike her Flag or Topſail to any Foreigner, unleſs ſuch Foreign Ship ſhall have firſt ſtruck, or at the ſame Time ſtrike her Flag or Top-ſail to His Majeſty's Ship.

And alſo the King's Subjects.

XII.

Commanders to protect the King's Subjects in their Trade.

The Flag-Officers and Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships are to be careful to maintain His Majeſty's Honour upon all Occaſions, giving Protection to His Subjects, and endeavouring, what in them lies, to ſecure and encourage them in their lawful Commerce; and they are not to injure, in any Manner, the Subjects of His Majeſty's Friends and Allies.

XIII. If

XIII.

If a Foreign Admiral meets with any of His Majeſty's Ships, and ſalutes them, he ſhall receive Gun for Gun. If he be a Vice-Admiral, the Admiral ſhall anſwer with two Guns leſs. If a Rear-Admiral, the Admiral and Vice-Admiral ſhall return two leſs. But if the Ship be commanded by a Captain only, the Flag-Officers ſhall give two Guns leſs, and Captains an equal Number.

How to return Salutes to Foreign Ships.

XIV.

When any of His Majeſty's Ships come to an Anchor in a Foreign Port or Road, within Cannon-ſhot of its Forts, the Captain may ſalute the Place with ſuch a Number of Guns as have been cuſtomary, upon good Aſſurance of having the like Number returned, but not otherwiſe.

Foreign Places may be ſaluted by Captains.

XV.

But if the Ship bears a Flag, the Flag-Officer ſhall firſt carefully inform himſelf how Flags of like Rank, belonging to other Crowned Heads, have given or returned Salutes, and to inſiſt upon the ſame Terms of Reſpect.

Flag-Officers to demand the ſame Reſpect as thoſe of other crowned Heads.

XVI.

It is allowed to the Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships in Foreign Parts, to ſalute the Perſons of any Admirals, Commanders in Chief, or Captains of Ships of War of Foreign Nations, and Foreign Noblemen or Strangers Commanders may ſalute the Perſons of Foreigners viſiting their Ships abroad.

Strangers of Quality, as alſo the Factories of the King's Subjects, coming on board to viſit the Ship; and the Number of Guns is left to the Diſcretion of the Commander, as ſhall be ſuitable to the Occaſion, and the Quality of the Perſons viſiting; but he is nevertheleſs to remain accountable for any Exceſſes in the Abuſe of this Liberty.

XVII.

Captains muſt have Leave of the Commanding Officer to do it.

If the Ship viſited be in Company with other Ships of War, the Captain is not to make uſe of the Civilities allowed in the preceding Article, but with Leave and Conſent of the Commander in Chief, or the Senior Captain.

XVIII.

How Returns are to be made to Salutes from Merchant Ships.

Merchant Ships, whether Foreigners, or belonging to His Majeſty's Subjects, ſaluting the Admiral of the Fleet, ſhall be anſwered by ſix Guns leſs; when they ſalute any other Flag-Ships, they ſhall be anſwered by four Guns leſs; and if they ſalute Men of War commanded by Captains, they ſhall be anſwered by two Guns leſs.

XIX.

No Returns to be made 'till all have finiſhed.

If ſeveral Merchant Ships ſalute in Company, no Return is to be made, 'till all have finiſhed, and then by ſuch a Number of Guns as ſhall be thought proper; but though the Merchant Ships ſhould anſwer, there ſhall be no ſecond Return.

XX. When

XX.

When any Perſons of Quality, or of a publick Character, embark on Board any of His Majeſty's Ships, they may be ſaluted at their coming on Board, and alſo at their Departure, with the following Number of Guns, viz. How Perſons of Quality may be ſaluted.

A Duke, or an Ambaſſador, with - - - - - -	15	Guns.
Other publick Miniſters, or Perſons of Quality, with	11	or leſs, according to the Degree of their Quality.

XXI.

Nothing in the foregoing Article is to be underſtood to reſtrain Commanders in their Reſpect to any of the Royal Family, who are always to be ſaluted by Guns, at the Diſcretion of the Commander in Chief. The Royal Family to be ſaluted at the Diſcretion of the Commander.

XXII.

The Anniverſary Days of the Birth, Acceſſion, and Coronation of the King, of the Birth of the Queen, of the Reſtoration of King Charles the Second, and of Gun-Powder Treaſon, ſhall be ſolemnized by His Majeſty's Ships, if they are in Port, with ſuch a Number of Guns as the Chief Officer ſhall think proper, not exceeding Twenty-one each Ship. Certain Feſtivals to be obſerved.

XXIII. All

XXIII.

Upper Deck Guns for Salutes. All Salutes are to be made with the Guns of the Upper Deck.

XXIV.

No Salutes to paſs between His Majeſty's Ships and Forts. None of His Majeſty's Ships of War ſhall ſalute any of His Majeſty's Forts or Caſtles in Great-Britain or Ireland, on any Pretence whatſoever.

XXV.

Ceremony at the Funeral of a Flag Officer. When a Flag Officer, or Commander in Chief, dies at Sea, or in a Road; at the putting of the Corpſe into the Sea, or carrying it from the Ship to be interred aſhore, the Commanding Officer ſhall cauſe ſuch a Number of Guns to be fired, Funeral-wiſe, from the Ships in Company, as he ſhall think proper, and the Flag ſhall be ſtruck half Maſt.

XXVI.

Ceremony at the Funeral of a Captain. If a Captain of any of His Majeſty's Ships dies at Sea, or in a Road, in Company of a Fleet or Squadron, the Commander in Chief ſhall, upon the Diſpoſal of his Corpſe as before, appoint ſuch a Number of Guns as he ſhall think fit, not exceeding Twenty, to be fired, Funeral-wiſe, from the Ship he commanded, and the Pendant of the Ship to be lowered down. But if the Ship be alone, the next ſurviving Officer is to cauſe the ſame to be done.

XXVII.

A Lieutenant dying at Sea, or in a Road, in a Fleet or Squadron, there ſhall be fired, on the ſame Occaſion, from the Ship he belonged to, Three Vollies of Small Arms, by Direction of the Commander in Chief. But if the Ship be ſingle, the Captain is to cauſe the ſame to be done. Ceremony at the Funeral of a Lieutenant.

XXVIII.

No Merchant-ſhip is to fire Guns in any Road or Port after the Watch is ſet, if any of His Majeſty's Ships be there. Merchant-ſhips not to fire Guns after the Watch is ſet.

Of Prizes.

Article I.

WHEN any Ship or Veſſel is taken from the Enemy, the Hatches are to be immediately ſpiked up, and her Lading and Furniture ſecured from Embezzlement, 'till Sentence is paſſed upon her in ſome Court of Admiralty, impowered to take Cogniſance of Cauſes of that Nature. Prizes not to be broken open 'till condemned in the Admiralty-Court.

II.

Some of the Crew of the Prize to be examined by the Judge of the Admiralty.

The Captain is to cauſe the Officers of the Prize to be examined, and Three or more of the Company, who can give beſt Evidence, to be brought to the ſaid Court of Admiralty, together with the Charter Parties, Bills of Lading, and other Ship Papers found on board.

III.

Priſoners, who are His Majeſty's Subjects, to be ſtrictly obſerved.

If any of His Majeſty's Subjects are found amongſt the Priſoners, he is to order three or four of his own Ship's Company to take particular Notice of them, and to ſet down in Writing their Names, and Circumſtances of their being taken, in order to help their Memory, in caſe they ſhall be produced as Evidence againſt them.

IV.

And examined before a Magiſtrate.

He is to carry the ſaid Priſoners, beingHis Majeſty's Subjects, before ſome Magiſtrate, to be examined, together with his own Witneſſes, and to ſend the Copies of the Declaration they make, to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

V.

Privateers Commiſſions to be preſerved; if none, to be committed as Pirates.

When a Privateer is taken, great Care is to be had to ſecure all the Ship's Papers, eſpecially the Commiſſion; but if there be no legal Commiſſion found on board, board, then all the Prisoners are to be carried before some Magistrate, in order to their being examined, and committed as Pirates.

III.

If any of His Majesty's Subjects are found amongst the Prisoners, he is to order three or four of his own Ship's Company to take particular Notice of them, and to set down in Writing their Names, and Circumstances of their being taken, in order to help their Memory, in case they shall be produced as Evidence

PART III.

The Lieutenant.

ARTICLE I.

To repair on board, and obey his Commander's Orders.

WHEN a Lieutenant receives a Commiſſion to ſerve in any of His Majeſty's Ships, he is to repair on board, and diligently execute all ſuch Orders as he ſhall receive from his Commander for His Majeſty's Service, and never to be abſent from the Ship, on any Pretence, without his Leave.

II. He

IX.

It is expected, that he do provide himself with the proper Instruments, Maps, and Books of Navigation, and keep an exact and perfect Journal, taking Care to note therein the coming in and going out of all Stores and Provisions; and when the Ship is ordered to be laid up; he is to deliver a Copy of the same into the Navy-Office, together with his Log-Book, signed by himself. To keep a Journal, Sea-Book, &c.

X.

He is to be very careful not to sign any Accounts, Books, Lists, or Tickets, before he has thoroughly informed himself of the Truth of every Particular contained in the same. Not to sign any Accounts negligently.

The Boatſwain; and Maſter Sail-Maker.

Article I.

To receive Stores into his Charge.

THE Boatſwain is to receive into his Charge the Rigging, Cables, Cordage, Anchors, Sails, Boats, and other Stores committed to him by Indenture from the Surveyor of the Navy; and to diſpoſe the ſame in the moſt provident Manner, whether it be for preſent Uſe, or to be laid up for future Service.

II.

To be careful of the Stores.

He is every Morning to inſpect into the State of the Rigging; he is not to cut up any Cordage or Canvas, or convert or lend any Part of the Stores under his Charge, but by Order in Writing, under the Hand of the Captain, for the public Uſes of the Ship, and under the Inſpection of the Maſter; and in every Reſpect to be very frugal in the Expence of Stores; and he is likewiſe to take Care always to keep a ſufficient Quantity of ſmall Platts by him, for Security of the Cables, to prevent the extravagant Expence of new Hammacoes.

III.

To relieve the Watch, and ſee the Men do their Duty.

He, and his Mates, are to be diligent in attending to relieve the Watch, and ſee that the Men attend upon Deck, and that the Working of the Ship be performed with as little Noiſe and Confuſion as poſſible.

IV. At

IV.

At the End of the Voyage, he is to preſent to the Surveyor of the Navy, an Account of the Expence that has been made of Stores under his Charge, audited and vouched by the Captain and Maſter, with an Account of all Stores that he hath been ſupplied with, either from the Yards, other Ships, or that have been bought by the Captain; and of all Stores that he has lent; and of all ſuch as have been any ways embezzled, waſted, or miſapplied, and of all loſt or deſtroyed thro' Careleſſneſs, or any unavoidable Accident, with the particular Circumſtances thereof, and of the Perſons Names concern'd therein, and of ſuch as have been return'd to any of the Yards, with proper Receipts for the ſame, without which his Accounts will not be allowed; and he is not to receive his Wages until the ſaid Accounts are paſſed.

To paſs his Accounts at the End of the Voyage.

V.

If he has Cauſe of Complaint againſt any of the Officers of the Ship, with Relation to the Diſpoſition of the Stores under his Charge, he is to repreſent the ſame to the Navy-Board before the Pay of the Ship, in order to their doing Right between them and His Majeſty, before the ſaid Officers receive their Pay.

To repreſent Complaints againſt any Officers, before the Pay of the Ship.

VI.

He is to be very careful not to ſign any Accounts, Books, Liſts, or Tickets, before he has thoroughly informed himſelf of the Truth of every Particular contained in the ſame.

Not to ſign any Papers negligently.

VII.

The Master Sail-maker is to be appointed by Warrant from the Navy-Board, without which none are to be rated in that Capacity on board His Majesty's Ships.

VIII.

To examine the Sails, and attend all Surveys and Conversions.

He is, together with his Mate and Crew, to examine carefully all Sails that are brought on board, before they are bent, or put into the Store-Room, and also constantly to attend all Surveys and Conversions of Sails.

IX.

To keep the Sails in good Condition.

He is to take all Opportunities to inspect into the Condition of the Sails, and timely to repair and keep them fit for Service.

X.

To see that they receive no Damage in the Store-Room.

He is to see that the Sails be perfectly dry when put into the Store-Room, or to apply soon for their being taken up and aired again; and frequently to examine and remove them in the Store-Room, and see that they are there secured from Drips, Damps, and Vermin, as much as possible.

XI.

To attend the Return of Sails into Store.

When any Sails are to be returned into Store, he is to attend the Delivery of them, to prevent their receiving Damage in their Passage.

The

The Gunner; Armourer; and Gunſmith.

Article I.

To receive Stores into his Charge, and object againſt ſuch as are bad.

WHEN any of His Majeſty's Ships are ordered to be fitted out for the Sea, the Gunner is to apply to the Store-keeper of His Majeſty's Ordnance, and receive from him by Indenture the Ordnance, Ammunition, Small Arms, and other Stores allowed for the Voyage, and to ſee that the ſame be timely brought on Board; and, if any Part thereof be not good, or not conformable to the Eſtabliſhment, he is to repreſent the ſame to the Captain, in order to its being ſurveyed and returned.

II.

To viſit the Powder-Rooms.

He is to viſit the Powder-Rooms, and ſee that they be well ſecured, clean, and in right Order, before the Powder is brought into the Ship.

III.

Where Ships are to take in their Powder.

Ships which fit out at Plymouth, Portſmouth, or Sheerneſs, are to take in their Powder at ſome of the outermoſt Moorings; if at Chatham, at Blackſtakes; and if in the River of Thames, at Galleons, or Long-reach.

IV.

How to ſtow the Powder.

In the Stowage of the Powder, the Gunner is to take Care, that the Powder in Copper-hooped Barrels be

V.

To prevent Accidents by Powder.

He is to give timely Notice to the Captain, upon all Occaſions of bringing Powder on board, and not to remove any out of the Ship, or from one Part of her to another, or fill Cartridges, or prepare Fuzees, Fire-works, &c. without the Captain's Directions, that he may give Orders for extinguiſhing the Fire and Candles, and poſting Centinels at all proper Places, to prevent Accidents; and the Decks are immediately after to be thoroughly ſwabbed, and cleaned of the looſe Powder that may have fallen.

VI.

None to go into the Powder-Rooms without Order.

He is never to go, or ſend any one into the Powder-Rooms, but by Leave from the Captain; and to take Care, that nobody enters with ſuch Things about him, as may ſtrike Fire in falling.

VII.

Only three Rounds of Parchment-Cartridges filled at a Time.

It being found by Experience, that Parchment Cartridges filled will not laſt above three Weeks, eſpecially in a hot Country; he is to keep but three Rounds thereof filled at a Time, Paper being found more durable, as well as leſs expenſive.

VIII. He

VIII.

He may receive an additional Proportion of Match, Parchment, and Paper Cartridges, Oil, &c. if the Ship is ordered to any Station in America, more than the full eſtabliſhed Allowance, in order to prevent, as much as poſſible, the buying thoſe Species at extravagant Prices in the Country; all which will be packed up in whole or half Powder-Barrels. He is to ſtow them in the Store-Room, and they are not to be uſed 'till the Ship's firſt eſtabliſhed Proportion is all expended. Additional Allowance of Stores not to be uſed, 'till the firſt is expended.

IX.

When any of the Parchment Cartridges, or other periſhable Stores, ſhall become unfit for Service, he is to apply to the Captain to have them condemned by a regular Survey; and if the Ship is near any Port in England, he is not to throw them over-board, but return them into the Stores. Periſhing Stores to be condemned by Survey.

X.

He is not, on any Pretence, to ſtave or any ways convert empty Powder-Barrels, but to preſerve them, in order to ſhift ſuch as may be decayed. Not to ſtave empty Powder-Barrels.

XI.

He is to allow, by the Direction of his Captain, once a Week for the firſt Two Months, and once a Month afterwards, ſix Charges of Powder to each Man in every Exerciſe of the Small Arms, and four Pounds Powder and Shot allowed for Exerciſe.

of Muſquet-Shot for them all once a Fortnight; and alſo five Charges of Powder and five of Shot, once a Month, for the Exerciſe of the Upper Deck Guns.

XII.

Powder and Shot allowed in Service, and Scaling.

As to the Proportion of Powder to be ſpent on the Occaſion of Service or Scaling, he is to obſerve the Regulation ſet down in a Table, Page (174.)

XIII.

Powder to be reduced by Degrees, in Time of Action.

After firing five or ſix Rounds on warm Service, he is to reduce the Allowance of Powder proportionably, until the ſame is leſſened to one Third of the Weight of the Shot. And he is not to wet a Gun with a Swab, when it grows warm with frequent Firing, this Practice having been the Occaſion of ſplitting ſeveral, by checking the Metal with cold Water.

XIV.

Rules for placing the Guns in their proper Carriages.

When the Guns are received on board, either upon firſt fitting out, or after refitting, he is to take particular Care, that they be all put into their proper Carriages to which they are number'd, and place N° 1, the foremoſt Gun on the Larboard Side on each Deck, and the higheſt Number the aftermoſt Gun on the Starboard Side; by obſerving which Rule, all the Guns will fit their Carriages, and ſtand a proper Height from the Sill of the Ports.

N. B. The Guns of every Ship have a Number engraved on them over the Trunnion, and have their proper Carriages Carriages marked with the ſame Number on the Bracket, under or near to the Trunnion. The Guns and Carriages for the Larboard Side of each Deck are numbered and marked on the Larboard Side, and thoſe of the Starboard Side are numbered and marked on the Starboard Side.

XV.

He is to ſcale the Guns no oftner than the Ship is refitted, unleſs upon extraordinary Occaſions, and with the Captain's Orders. And when they are loaded for Service, he is to ſee them well tampioned, and fidded at the Vents with Ocham. Not to ſcale the Guns oftner than needful.

XVI.

When there is an abſolute Neceſſity for ſtriking good Guns into the Hold, and the Captain has ſignified his Orders ſo to do, he is to pay the Guns all over with a Coat of warm Tar and Tallow mixed together, and place a good full Wad, dipped in the ſame, a Foot within the Muzzle, and a Tampion well fixed therein; alſo a Cork, as well as Ocham, put into the Vent, to prevent their receiving Damage. Caution to prevent Damage to Guns in the Hold.

XVII.

He is to take Care, that all the Stores committed to his Charge be kept clean, and ſecured from Embezzlement, or Damage. No Waſte of Stores, that are not periſhable, will be allowed on his Accounts, beyond reaſonable Wear, ſuch Accidents excepted, as ſhall be vouched under the Hand of the Captain. To take Care of the Stores.

XVIII.

How to keep his Book of Expences.

He is to keep his Book of Expences according to the Method prescribed in Page (175.) and to be particularly careful, that the Quantity of Stores which shall be daily or monthly expended, be not expressed in Figures, but in Words at Length.

XIX.

Boxes of Grape-Shot to be kept dry.

He is to take Care, that the Boxes, containing the Grape-Shot and Hand Granades, be kept in a dry Place, to prevent their being damaged; and for his Information, the Numbers and Sorts of Shot used in the Grapes, according to the different Natures of Guns, are set down in a Table, Page (176.)

XX.

The Cannons to be marked.

He is to take Notice, that there will be placed on all Cannons for Sea-Service, Notches or Sights on the Base and second Reinforced or Muzzle Rings, for Horizontal and Vertical Directions, for the better guiding the Aim; and the Notches are to be marked with White Lead.

XXI.

Not to load the Guns with unfit Mixtures.

It appearing by Experience, that firing double round Shot, round and double-headed Shot, or round and Grape-Shot together, is dangerous, and more to the Detriment than Good of the Service, he is to take Care to prevent that Practice in Time of Action, and to see that the Guns are not loaded with ſuch Mixtures, unleſs it be by the Captain's Order; nor to ſuffer any Iron Crows to be put into them, ſince it is experienced, that they can do little or no Execution by themſelves, and being put after a round Shot, do greatly endanger the Splitting of the Gun.

How to keep his Book of Expences.

XXII.

He is never to ſtart the Hand Granades, but return ſuch as ſhall remain at the End of the Voyage, fixed in their Boxes, in the ſame Manner that he received them.

Not to ſtart Hand Granades.

XXIII.

When there is Occaſion to cut up any Cordage into Breechings, Tackles, Muzzled Laſhings, Port Ropes, or Portacle Falls, after receiving the Captain's Orders for it, he is to take Care to conform to the Lengths ſet down in the Table, Page (177, 178) and at the ſame Time that he diſcharges himſelf of the Cordage expended, to charge himſelf with the Breechings, Tackles, &c. into which it ſhall be converted. The like Method is to be uſed in the Converſion of any other Stores. As to the Rope Spunges, they are to be made out of old Breechings of the ſame Natures of Guns.

Rules for cutting up Cordage.

XXIV.

When the Ship is in Want of a Supply of Stores, he is to draw out an Account of the Expence which has been made, with the Occaſion thereof, and an Inventory of what remains, and preſent the ſame to the Captain, who is to audit the ſaid Account, and (if it be juſt) to ſend the ſame, certified by himſelf, to the Board of Ordnance, in order to their directing a new Proportion of Supplies.

XXV.

To make up his Accounts Half-Yearly.

He is to make an Abſtract of his Accounts of Receipts, Iſſues, and Remains, half Yearly, according to the Specimen in Page (179.) viz. at Midſummer and Chriſtmas, and to deliver the ſame ſigned to the Captain, who is to audit the ſaid Accounts, and to ſend them up certified (as is above directed) to the Office of Ordnance.

XXVI.

To keep good Order in the Gun-Room.

He is to keep good Order in the Gun-Room, and ſuffer none to lie there, but ſuch as have a Right thereto by their Places, or whom the Captain ſhall direct. He is to cauſe a careful Man of his Crew to watch there every Night, with a Candle in a Lanthorn.

XXVII.

To be frugal of the Match.

He is not to burn any Match in the Day-Time, except in a Flag-ſhip, or one that commands in Chief; nor more than two Lengths in the Night at once, which are always to be kept hanging over Tubs of Water; but he is to keep a ſufficient Quantity armed, againſt any Surprize.

XXVIII.

After an Engagement, the Remains of Powder to be ſurveyed.

After an Engagement, he muſt apply to the Captain, who is to order his chief Officers, if the Ship is alone, (but if in Company with other Men of War, the the Commander in Chief is to appoint the proper Officers) to ſurvey the Remains of Powder, as well laden as in Barrels or Cartridges, and to affirm the ſaid Survey under their Hands, that the Expence during the Fight may be known.

XXIX.

To keep an Inventory of Arms and Utenſils ſent out of the Ship.

When any Detachment of Seamen ſhall be ſent from the Ship on Service, he is to draw out an Inventory of the Arms and Utenſils they are to carry with them, and get the ſame ſigned by the Officer appointed to command the ſaid Detachment, and witneſſed by the Captain's Clerk, who is to be preſent at the furniſhing thereof. And when the ſaid Detachment returns on board, he, with the Captain's Clerk, is to examine and ſee if any of the ſaid Arms or Utenſils are miſſing, and to repreſent the ſame to the Captain, who is to examine the Officer that commanded, and if he cannot give a good Account how they came to be loſt, the Expence is to be noted againſt his Name on the Ship's Books, and an Account thereof ſent to the Ordnance-Office.

XXX.

To get the Ship cleared when to be refitted or laid up.

When the Ship comes into Port to be refitted or laid up, he is to apply timely to the Officer of the Ordnance at the Port, to have her cleared of her Powder, Guns, and other Ordnance Stores, that nothing may remain on board, when the Ship is taken into the Charge of the Officers of the Yard.

XXXI. On

XXXI.

To take Care that the Stores be ſafely returned.

On Return of the Stores out of the Ship, he is to ſee that the Carriages, and other Stores, be not heedleſſly flung down by the Seamen into the Veſſels appointed to receive them, but lowered carefully; and when he ſhall find it otherwiſe done, to acquaint the Captain: And he, together with the Armourer, is to attend the Store-keeper and other Officers belonging to the Ordnance, when his Stores ſo returned, are ſurveyed on Shore, and he (the Gunner) to ſign the Remains.

XXXII.

To paſs his Accounts at the End of the Voyage.

At the End of the Voyage, he is to deliver his Accounts into the Office of Ordnance, audited and vouched by the Captain, and he is not to receive his Wages without a Certificate from that Board, that he hath faithfully diſcharged his Truſt.

XXXIII.

To repreſent Complaints againſt any Officers before the Pay of the Ship.

If he has Cauſe of Complaint againſt any of the Officers of the Ship, with relation to the Diſpoſition of the Stores under his Charge, he is to repreſent the ſame both to the Navy and Ordnance Boards, before the Pay of the Ship, in order to their doing Right between them and His Majeſty before the ſaid Officers receive their Pay.

XXXIV.

Gunners to paſs an Examination.

No Perſon ſhall be warranted as Gunner of any of His Majeſty's Ships, or if made Abroad, have his Warrant rant confirmed, before he has paſſed an Examination through the ſeveral Parts of Gunnery, touching his Qualifications to ſerve as Gunner in His Majeſty's Navy, before a Mathematical Maſter, and Three able Gunners of the Navy, choſen by the Commiſſioner of the Navy reſiding at the Port, and produces a Certificate from them, that he is fitly qualified to ſerve in that Station.

To take Care that the Stores be fitly returned.

XXXV.

The Armourer and Gunſmith are to be appointed by Warrant from the Board of Ordnance, without which none are to be entertained in that Quality on board His Majeſty's Ships.

Armourer and Gunſmith to be appointed by the Ordnance Board.

XXXVI.

They are to be aſſiſting to the Gunner in the Survey and Receipt of the Small Arms, which are to be packed up in Cheſts, for the better Preſervation in their Carriage to and from the Ship.

To aſſiſt in the Survey and Receipt of Small Arms.

XXXVII.

Their Station is to be in the Gun-Room, where they are to obſerve the Gunner's Orders; they are particularly to be diligent in keeping the Small Arms clean within as well as without, by frequent oiling them; but not to take them too often to Pieces, which deſtroys the Locks, Screws, and other Parts.

To obſerve the Gunner's Orders.

XXXVIII.

The Gunner is to receive from the Office of Ordnance, the Tools mentioned in the Table, Page (180.) which Gunner to receive the Armourer's Tools.

which are to be delivered out for the Uſe of the Armourer. And the Gunner is to account for the ſaid Tools at the End of the Voyage, in the ſame Manner that he does for the other Stores under his Charge.

XXXIX.

To attend the Repairs of Small Arms in Foreign Parts.

When the Ship is in Foreign Parts, and the Small Arms want ſuch Cleaning or Repairs as cannot be performed aboard, the Captain is firſt to cauſe the ſame to be carefully ſurveyed by ſome of his Commiſſion and Warrant Officers, and, upon their Report of the Defects, may order them aſhore, to be repaired by the Workmen of the Country; but the Armourer or Gunſmith is to be preſent while thoſe Repairs are performing, to ſee the ſame well executed, and the Abuſes they are liable to, in the Hands of the Country Workmen, prevented.

XL.

Small Arms to be returned into Store clean, and in good Order.

When the Small Arms are to be returned into Store, the Armourer and Gunſmith are to take Care that they be all clean and in good Order; and they are to take Notice, that their Wages will not be paid, but upon Certificate from the reſpective Officers of the Ordnance, at the Port where the Arms are returned, that they have well diſcharged their Duty.

The Carpenter.

Article I.

THE Carpenter is to take upon himſelf the Care and Preſervation of the Ship's Hull, Maſts, Yards, Bulkheads, and Cabbins, &c. and to receive into his Charge the Sea-Stores committed to him by Indenture from the Surveyor of the Navy. To take Care of the Ship's Hull, Stores, &c.

II.

At Sea, he is to viſit daily all the Parts of the Ship, and ſee if the Ports are well ſecured, and Decks and Sides be well caulked, and whether any Thing gives Way; and if the Pumps are in good Order; and from Time to Time to inſpect into the Condition of the Maſts and Yards, and to make a Report of every Thing to the Captain. To viſit all Parts of the Ship daily.

III.

In an Engagement he is frequently to paſs up and down the Hold with his Crew, and to be watchful againſt all Leaks from Shot under Water, having Shot-Boards and Plugs of Wood ready, and whatever elſe is neceſſary to ſtop them, and likewiſe to fiſh, or otherwiſe ſecure the Maſts and Yards. To have Things ready to repair Damages in Battle.

IV.

As often as the Ship comes into Port, he is to draw up in Writing, an exact and particular Account of the Condition of her Hull, Maſts, and Yards, and what To give an Account of the Ship's Condition, when ſhe comes into Port.

Works are wanting to be done to her, and to preſent the ſame ſigned to the Captain, and alſo to the Maſter Shipwright of the Yard, when ſhe is to be refitted.

V

To paſs his Accounts at the End of the Voyage.

He is not to lend any of the Stores under his Charge, without an Order in Writing from the Captain, nor to expend any without his Direction, and to be very frugal in the doing thereof; and, at the End of the Voyage, he is to deliver juſt Accounts thereof to the Surveyor of the Navy, audited and vouched by the Captain and Maſter, with an Account of all Stores that he hath been ſupplied with, either from the Yards, other Ships, or that have been bought by the Captain; and of all Stores that he has lent; and of all that are any way waſted, embezzled, or miſapplied; and of all loſt or deſtroyed, either through Careleſſneſs, or any unavoidable Accident, with the particular Circumſtances thereof, and of the Perſons Names concerned therein; and of ſuch as have been returned to any of the Yards, with proper Receipts for the ſame, without which they will not be allowed; and he is not to receive his Wages until the ſaid Accounts are paſſed.

VI.

To repreſent Complaints againſt any Officers, before the Pay of the Ship.

If he has Cauſe of Compaint againſt any of the Officers of the Ship, with relation to the Diſpoſition of the Stores under his Charge, he is to repreſent the ſame to the Navy-Board before the Pay of the Ship, in order to their doing Right between them and His Majeſty, before the ſaid Officers receive their Pay.

The

The Purſer.

Article I.

THE Purſer, being the Officer who is entruſted with the keeping and diſtributing the Proviſions out to the Ship's Company, is to obſerve the following Inſtructions. Duty of the Purſer.

II.

When the Ship, whereof he is Purſer, is put into Commiſſion, and ordered to be fitted out for the Sea, he is every Three Days, or as frequently as may be, to procure Warrants ſigned by the chief Officer on board and the Clerk of the Cheque, for the Number of Men muſtered, during the Time that the Ship ſhall continue in extra Petty Warrant; which Warrant he is to deliver to the Agent for Victualling, and to ſee that the Ship be duly ſupplied; and he is to take Care that no Part of the Sea Proviſions be expended, while the Ship is in extra Petty Warrant; nor Petty Warrant Proviſions in Sea Victualling. To victual the Ship every three Days in Petty Warrant. Not to ſpend Sea Proviſions in Petty Warrant.

III.

He is not to enter any Man's Name on his Books, nor ſupply him with Proviſions, but by Note in Writing from the Clerk of the Cheque, or the Commanding Officer on board, which he muſt produce as a Voucher to the proper Officer, for paſſing his Accounts. To victual none without a Note in Writing.

IV.

To get the Provisions, &c. on board in Time.

He is to inform himself, from the Captain, of the Time the Ship is ordered to be victualled for, and to take Care that there be no Failure on his Part, in timely indenting for, and getting the full Quantity of Provisions, Water, Cask, Necessaries, &c. on Board.

V.

To receive none but good Provisions.

He is to take Care, that all the Provisions be sweet and good, and that the Cask be sound, otherwise to object against their being received into the Ship without a Survey: He is particularly to note down in Writing the Marks of the Cask, and of the other Provisions which come on board, that if any should prove defective afterwards, he may be able to testify where and when the same was received.

VI.

What Provisions the Ship cannot hold to be certified, that the Remainder may be supplied another Way.

If the Ship cannot contain all her Provisions, he is to bring a Certificate under the Hands of the Commander and Master, to the Commissioners of the Victualling or their Agent, specifying the Quantity of each Species received short of the Proportion ordered, and the Incapacity of the Ship to receive any more, to the End that the Remainder may be put on board other Ships, or made good to him by Credit, Bills, or Foreign Coin; in which Case, Notice will be given by the Commissioners of the Victualling to the Captain, who is to see that the Bills or Money be brought on board by the Purser, and duly applied.

VII. He

VII.

He is to procure Certificates under the Hands of the Commander, Master, and Boatswain, of the Quantity of Provisions received into the Ship, which he must produce to the Commissioners of the Victualling, or to their Officer; without which he will not be allowed to indent for the said Provisions.

To produce Certificates of the Provisions received on board.

VIII.

He shall not discount any Part of the Provisions due on Credits upon his Indents, for Money; nor be furnished with fresh Proportions of necessary Money, before he is entitled thereto.

Not to discount his Credit; nor be furnish'd with necessary Money till entitled thereto.

IX.

He is to provide the Ship sufficiently at all Times with Coals, Wood, Turnery Ware, Candles, Lanthorns, and other Necessaries; to enable him to do which, His Majesty allows Twelve-pence a Man a Month, whilst the Ship is in extra Petty-Warrant, and Fourteen-pence in Sea Victualling, unless the Complement be Sixty Men, or under; in which Case he shall have Seven teen-pence a Man a Month during the Time of Sea Victualling. There is likewise allowed him Four-pence a Tun for Drawage of Beer, and two Shillings a Month loading Charges; and if the Ship bears more than Sixty Men, Ten Groats a Month Adz-Money; all which will be immediately paid him, after signing his Indent.

To provide the Ship with Necessaries.

Allowances to him.

X. He

X.

To see the Provisions well stowed, and the oldest spent first.

He is to be very careful in looking into the good Order, Stowage, and Preservation of the Provisions; and to issue out first such Part thereof as he shall perceive to be most liable to decay, or which have the Marks of old Provisions, before he spends upon the new.

XI.

Bad Provisions to be surveyed.

In Case any of the Provisions prove defective and unfit for Use, he is to acquaint the Captain, who shall immediately procure a Warrant from the Commander in Chief, or give one himself, (in Case no other Ship be in Company) directed to Three (or more) Warrant Officers, to survey the same, who, after due Inspection made, are to draw out a Report of the Condition of the said Provisions upon the Back of the Warrant, according to the Form in Page (181.)

XII.

What Officers to survey the Provisions.

No Officers of the Ship shall be employed in the Survey, if any other Ships be in Company. And if the Ship be alone in a Port where there are Naval Officers, then the Captain is to apply to have a Naval Officer joined in the Survey.

XIII.

Condemned Provisions to be returned.

If the Ship, at the Time of the Survey, is at or near any Victualling Port, he is not to suffer any of the condemned condemned Proviſions to be thrown over-board, except Cheeſe, but to return the ſame to the Agent of the Victualling. The like he is to do, if the Ship be at Sea, and an Agent with Victualling Veſſels be in Company. But if there be no Agent, or he ſhall refuſe to receive the condemned Proviſions, (the Reaſon whereof he is to certify under his Hand) and the Surveyors ſhall give their Opinion, that the ſame are not fit to be kept on board, (the Reaſons whereof they are likewiſe to certify under their Hands) he is then, being directed thereto by a Warrant from the Commander in Chief, (or from his own Captain if the Ship be alone,) to cauſe the ſaid Proviſions to be flung over-board (Beer-Caſk being firſt filled up) taking the Certificate of the Surveyors, of the Quantity ſo thrown away; which is to be written in Words at Length, at the Foot of the ſaid Warrant; and either himſelf, or his Steward, is to make Oath to the Truth of the ſame, the firſt Opportunity they ſhall have of doing it; as alſo when, where, and from whom the ſaid Proviſions were received.

In what Caſes to be flung over-board.

XIV.

In Caſe any Proviſions ſhall be caſt by Survey, after the Time for which they were put on board to ſerve, he is to expect no Allowance on ſuch Surveys, without producing a very ſatisfactory Certificate from the Captain and Officers of the Ship, why the ſaid Proviſions were not ſooner expended.

Proviſions condemned after the Time they were to laſt, not to be allowed without ſufficient Reaſon.

XV. Con-

XV.

Condemned Butter not to be flung over-board.

Condemned Butter is never to be flung over-board, but to be returned into His Majeſty's Stores, unleſs the Boatſwain ſhall want any for the Ship's Uſe; in which Caſe he may be ſupplied with what is neceſſary, and ſhall be charged therewith.

XVI.

Leakage of Beer to be ſurveyed.

If any Caſk of Beer ſhall have leaked out a Quantity, he is to apply to the Captain for a Warrant, directed to the Maſter, and two or more other Officers of the Ship, (the Mate in this Caſe to be eſteemed an Officer) for their ſurveying the ſame; who are to report under their Hands, on the Back of the ſaid Warrant, the Quantity leaked out, in Words at Length, according to the Form in Page (182.) and to be very particular in giving the Reaſons and Occaſion of the Leakage. The Cooper is likewiſe to make Oath to the Truth of the ſaid Leakage, and that no Beer was drawn or pumped out of any of the ſaid Caſks, with his Knowledge, before the Time of Survey.

XVII.

No Allowance for Leakage of Wine, Oil, &c.

He is never to expect any Allowance for Leakage of Wine, Oyl, Brandy, Rum, or Arrack, but to ſee that the Caſk be ſound and full at their coming on board, and to be anſwerable for the Care of them afterwards, there being proper Conveniencies made in the the Hold for ſecuring the ſaid Liquors from any Abuſes, which are not to be employed to any other Uſe whatſoever.

XVIII.

He is to procure Duplicates of all Orders, Reports, Certificates, &c. relating to Surveys, atteſted under the Hands of the Surveyors, and to tranſmit the ſame by the firſt Opportunity to the Commiſſioners of the Victualling, reſerving the Originals in his own Hands for the paſſing his Accounts.

Duplicates of Surveys to be ſent to the Victualling-Office.

XIX.

If any Species of Proviſions fall ſhort, and the Want thereof is ſupplied to the Men out of another Species, he is to take care, when the Ship receives a Supply, to iſſue out the like Quantity of the Species that was wanting, and for the ſame Number of Days, inſtead of the other Species that was before iſſued in Lieu thereof, that His Majeſty may not be put to an extraordinary Charge on that Account.

To replace one Species iſſued for another, out of the next Supply.

XX.

If any Caſk of Beef, or Pork, ſhall fall ſhort of the Contents marked on the Head, he muſt apply to the Captain for his Warrant to the Maſter, and to one or more of the Mates, who ſhall ſurvey the ſame, and report under their Hands, according to the Form in Page (183.) and either himſelf, or his Steward, is to make Oath, at the Foot of the Survey, to the Truth thereof;

Short Proviſions in Caſk to be ſurveyed.

thereof; and that no Part of what is wanting has been embezzled, to the best of their Knowledge or Belief. And it is further expected that, with that Account there be produced an exact Account kept of the Number of Pieces of Beef and Pork in all the Casks that shall be expended after such a Discovery, and a true Balance thereof delivered to the Commissioners of the Victualling.

XXI.

Not to misapply the Provisions or Stores.

He is not to sell or make any undue Use of the Provisions or Stores under his Charge. And the better to discourage Pursers from selling His Majesty's Provisions in dear Years, knowing they are not to pay more, when Debtors on the Balance of their Accounts, than the settled Prices; it is hereby ordered, that in those Years, where the Price of any Species shall exceed the Sum usually charged on Pursers in Debt, the Purser shall be obliged to pay the full Value His Majesty gave for the Provisions.

XXII.

How to purchase Provisions Abroad.

He is not to purchase any Provisions in Places where there is an Agent or Contractor, or where there is a Likelihood of coming in their Way; but, in Case the Ship is in Want of Provisions in Foreign Parts, where there is no Agent or Contractor, he shall apply to the Captain, who is to cause the Remains to be surveyed by his Officers; and, upon their certifying what is absolutely necessary to be supplied, and the Reason of the Deficiency, shall give his Warrant to the Purser to procure the same, which he is to do with the best Bargain, taking Care that the said Provisions be good and wholesome. The Receipt of Payment for the Provisions are to be witnessed by Two Commissioners or Warrant Officers, and to express the Quantity and Prices of each Species; and he is to procure a Certificate from the Governor or Consul where there are any, or else from Two or the most eminent Merchants upon the Place, that the said Bargains were according to the Market Price.

How to take up Money Abroad.

Upon Necessity.

Not to unship Provisions to Store without Order.

Storehouse Room and Commission Money not allowed; nor Sloops or Boats, but upon Necessity.

XXIV.

If it shall be necessary for the Purser to draw Bills of Exchange upon the Commissioners of the Victualling, either for Monies taken up Abroad to purchase Provisions, or for the Payment of Provisions supplied by Merchants, the Money is to be taken up by Publication; and the Captain is to attest the Bills, that they are drawn upon Account of the necessary Victualling of the Ship, and by his Order; and the Purser is to to procure Certificates from the Governor, Conſul, or Merchants as aforeſaid, of the Currency of the Exchange at that Time, which he is to tranſmit Home with the Bills; and at the ſame Time, or as ſoon after as poſſible, to ſend to the Victualling-Office a diſtinct Account how the ſaid Money has been laid out, with a Certificate from the Commander, Maſter, and Boatſwain, that the Proviſions, charged therein to have been bought, were received on Board.

XXV.

How to paſs his Account of Diſburſements.

When he returns home, he is to deliver into the Victualling-Office an Account current of all his Diſburſements in Foreign Parts for the Service of the Ship, ſetting forth the Quantity and Price of every Species of Proviſions bought, together with the particular Charge attending the ſame, reduced into Engliſh Money, with his Affidavit at the Foot of the Account, That the ſeveral Sums therein mentioned were actually paid as againſt each Article expreſſed, without any Profit to himſelf, or to any Perſon on his Account, by Exchange or otherwiſe; and that the Quantity of Proviſions charged therein, was the full Quantity Engliſh Weight and Meaſure, and was all received on board in Kind; and that he has not procured Proviſions of any Sort (except what hath been ſaved by the Ship's Company out of their daily Allowance) at the ſame Time and Place, on his own Account.

XXVI. If

XXVI.

If the Ship ſhall happen to be at any Place Abroad, where Water cannot be had without Money, he is upon a Warrant from the Captain, to purchaſe what is neceſſary, taking Receipts witneſſed by Two Commiſſion or Warrant Officers, and a Certificate from the Captain of the Quantity brought on board. To be allowed for Water purchaſed Abroad.

XXVII.

If the Caſk ſhall prove defective in Foreign Parts, where there is no Opportunity of returning them into Stores, and receiving better, the Purſer ſhall employ his Cooper to repair and new trim the ſaid Caſk, without any Charge to His Majeſty for Workmanſhip. He ſhall keep a diſtinct Account of the Waſte of Staves or Iron Hoops, in making the Remainder ſerviceable; and himſelf or the Cooper, ſhall make Oath to the Truth thereof; upon producing which, with the Captain's Certificate of the Badneſs of the Caſk, the Neceſſity of trimming the ſame, and the Quantity ſo trimmed, it will be allowed him on his Accounts. To repair defective Caſk Abroad.

XXVIII.

He is not to ſuffer any Caſk to be expended, or cut for extra Service, without an Order from the Captain in Writing, who is to give him likewiſe a Certificate, expreſſing the Quantity expended, when, and for what Service. But he is to take Notice, that no To be careful of the Caſk.

To inform the Captain of the State of the ſick Men.

VIII.

When any ſick Men are ordered aſhore to the Hoſpital, or on Board the Hoſpital Ship attending the Squadron, he is to ſend along with them to the Surgeon, an Account (in Writing) of the Time and Manner of their being taken ill, and the Methods uſed towards their Recovery.

To ſend with ſick Men, to the Hoſpitals, an Account of their Diſtempers, and Treatment.

IX.

In an Engagement he is to keep himſelf in the Hold, where a Platform is to be prepared for the Reception of the wounded Men; and himſelf, and his Mates and Aſſiſtants, are to be ready and have every Thing at Hand for ſtopping their Blood, and dreſſing their Wounds.

To take Care of the wounded Men in an Engagement.

X.

He is to keep a Day-Book of his Practice, noting therein the Names of the Men that come under his Care; their Hurts or Diſtempers; the Day they were taken ill, and the Day of their Recovery, Removal, or Death; together with his Preſcriptions and Methods of Treatment while under Cure.

To keep a Day-Book of his Practice.

XI. He

IX.

To deliver Journals of his Practice.

He is, from the laid Day-Book, to compose two Journals, the one of his Phyſical Practice in Diſeases, the other of his Chirurgical Operations in Caſes of Wounds or Hurts; and, at End of the Voyage, to deliver the firſt to the Phyſicians in the Commiſſion of Sick and Wounded, or (if there be no ſuch) to the Phyſician of Greenwich Hoſpital, and the latter to the Governors of the Surgeons' Company, who are to examine the ſame, and certify their Judgment thereupon.

The Maſter at Arms; and the Corporal.

Article I.

Maſter at Arms to be warranted by the Admiralty.

NONE ſhall be admitted to ſerve as Maſter at Arms on board His Majeſty's Ships, but ſuch as are appointed by Warrant from the Lord High Admiral, or Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty; and they are to be Men of Service, and well ſkilled in Martial Diſcipline.

He is to viſit all Veſſels and Boats permitted to bring Proviſions and neceſſary Refreſhments to the Ship, and to prevent the Seamen going from the Ship without Leave.

To viſit Boats that come to, or go from, the Ship.

VI.

He is to acquaint the Officer of the Watch with all Miſdemeanors and Irregularities committed in the Ship, which ſhall come to his Knowledge.

To inform the Commanding Officer of Miſdemeanors.

VII. The

VII.

Corporals subordinate to the Maſter at Arms.

The Corporals are to act in Subordination to the Maſter at Arms; and to perform the ſame Duty themſelves, where a Maſter at Arms is not allowed.

The Schoolmaſter.

Article I.

Schoolmaſter to be examined by the Trinity-Houſe.

NO Perſon ſhall be warranted to ſerve as Schoolmaſter in any of His Majeſty's Ships, who have not been firſt examined before the Maſter, Wardens, and Aſſiſtants of the Trinity Houſe of Deptford Strond, and produced a Certificate under their Hands, of his being well ſkilled in the Theory and Practice of the Art of Navigation, and qualified to teach Youth therein, and another, under the Hands of Perſons of known Credit, teſtifying the Sobriety of his Life and Converſation.

II.

V.

He is not to receive his Wages or Allowances, without a Certificate from the Captain of his Diligence in his Buſineſs; nor to be employed again in another Ship, without depoſiting in the Admiralty-Office a like Certificate. To produce Certificates of his good Behaviour.

The Cook.

Article I.

THE Cook is to have the Charge of the Steep-Tub, and to be anſwerable for the Meat put therein, if any Part thereof ſhall be loſt through his Want of Care. To have the Care of the Meat in the Steep-Tub.

II.

To boil the Provisions, and issue them out to the Men.

He is to see the Meat duly watered, and the Provisions carefully and cleanly boiled, and issued to the Men, according to the Practice of the Navy.

III.

To preserve the Steep-Tub from being lost in stormy Weather.

Upon the Appearance of stormy Weather, he is to be careful to secure the Steep-Tub so, that it may not be washed over-board; but if, through any unexpected Accident, which he cannot prevent, the same shall happen to be lost, which the Captain is to certify, he is to make Oath to the Number of Pieces lost, that it may be allowed on the Purser's Accounts.

PART IV.

Of Hoſpital-Ships.

ARTICLE I.

SHIPS, appointed for Hoſpitals, ſhall have the Gun-Deck entirely ſet apart for the Reception of Sick Men, which ſhall be fluſh, without any Cabbins or Bulkheads, except a Deal or Canvas one (to roll up) for ſeparating ſuch as have malignant Diſtempers from the reſt. The ſaid Deck is to hold all the neceſſary Cradles, with the Bedding; and two Pair of chequer'd Linnen Sheets ſhall be allowed for every Bed, and Scuttles ſhall be made in the Sides, in convenient Places, for Inlets of the Air.

How Hoſpital Ships are to be fitted.

II.

A Phyſician, Surgeon, Aſſiſtants, &c. to be in the Hoſpital-Ship.

Beſides the Phyſician, there ſhall be in the Hoſpital-Ship an able and experienced Surgeon, with four Mates, and ſix Men Aſſiſtants, a Servant to the Surgeon, a Baker, and four Waſhermen; all ſupernumerary to the Complement.

III.

The Captain to ſubſiſt the Men with the beſt Proviſions.

The Captain of the Hoſpital-Ship ſhall ſubſiſt the Men under Cure, out of the beſt and neweſt Proviſions in the Ship; and with freſh Meat as often as the ſame can be procured.

IV.

Captains to ſend Boats for their recovered Men.

When any Men are well enough recovered to return to their Ship, the Captain of the Hoſpital-Ship ſhall put Abroad their Ship's Signal and a Weſt, that a Boat may be ſent to them.

The Phyſician.

Article I.

Of Gratuities to Officers wounded in Fight with the Enemy, and to Seamen Hurt in the Service.

Article I.

WHEN any Commiſſion or Warrant Officers, ſerving in the Navy, ſhall be wounded in Fight with the Enemy, His Majeſty has been pleaſed, in Conſideration thereof, to eſtabliſh the following Allowances.

His Majeſty's Declaration of his Bounty to wounded Officers.

II.

If the Wound received ſhall happen to occaſion the Loſs of an Eye, or a Limb, or the total Loſs of the Uſe of a Limb, or be ſuch, as ſhall, upon Search made by the Maſter, Wardens, and Aſſiſtants of the Company of Surgeons in London, be by them certified to be, in it's Effects, of equal Prejudice to the Habit of the Body, with the Loſs of a Limb, the Party ſhall receive a Gratuity in Money of one full Year's Pay, and be farther allowed ſuch Expences relating to his Cure, (if it is not performed at His Majeſty's Expence) as ſhall be certified to be reaſonable, under the Hands of the ſaid Company, upon Examination nation of the Vouchers, which he is to lay before them; And he shall besides continue in Pay during the Time he shall, by good Proof, appear to have lain under Cure.

Bounty of a Year's Pay. Charges of Cure and Continuance in Pay, to Officers much wounded.

III.

Ships under the Third Rate to be esteemed Third Rates as to the Year's Gratuity.

Officers serving in Ships under the Third Rate, at the Time of receiving Wounds, shall be esteemed (as to the Measure of a Year's Gratuity) as Officers of a Third Rate.

IV.

Voluntiers to have the same Bounty as Lieutenants.

Voluntiers by Warrant shall be esteemed (with respect to the Year's Gratuity) as Lieutenants.

V.

Allowance of Charges of Cure, and Continuance in Pay to Officers slightly wounded.

If the Wounds received amount not to the Loss of a Limb, nor are of equal Prejudice to the Body, the Charges of Cure only, and the Continuance of the Party in Pay, are allowed, as is expressed in the Second Article.

VI.

Explanation of the Term, Wounded in Fight.

Under the Term, Wounded in Fight with the Enemy, shall be comprehended all the several Cases included in the Seventh Article of the preceding Chapter, concerning the Slain in Fight with the Enemy; and such as are so wounded, shall be paid the Gratuities and Charges here allowed them, upon their Application to the Navy-Board.

VII.

Seamen hurt in the Service, to have the Benefit of the Chest at Chatham.

When any Warrant or Inferior Officer, Seamen, or other in Sea-Pay, shall receive any Hurt, or be maimed or disabled in any Service of the Ship, whether it be on board or ashore, the Captain is to cause a Certificate to be be made out, and delivered to him, printed Forms of which will be given him at the Navy-Office expreſſing the Nature of the Hurt, and on what Occaſion it was received: Which Certificate ſhall be ſigned by himſelf, a Lieutenant, the Maſter, Surgeon, and one more of the other Warrant Officers of the Ship to the End, that he may receive the Benefit of the Cheſt at Chatham, according to the Rules and Conſtitutions of the ſame.

Of Penſions to Superannuated Officers.

Article I.

His Majeſty's Declaration in Favour of ſuperannuated Officers.

WArrant Officers ſerving in the Navy, who by Age and long Service ſhall be worn out and rendered incapable of diſcharging their Duty, ſhall be ſuperannuated, and maintained during the reſt of their Lives, under the following Regulations.

Time of Service neceſſary to be ſuperannuated.

II. Boatſwains, Gunners, Carpenters, Purſers, and Cooks, (whoſe Employments are conſtant) ſhall have ſerved full Fifteen Years; Maſters, and Surgeons, (whoſe Employments are not conſtant) Eight Years in their reſpective Offices, before they ſhall be entitled to apply for Superannuation.

Officers applying for Superannuation to be examined.

III. Every Officer applying to be ſuperannuated, ſhall be examined by the Phyſicians in the Commiſſion of Sick and and Wounded, (or, in Default of such Commission, by the Physician of the Royal Hospital at Greenwich) in Conjunction with the Master, Wardens, and Assistants, of the Surgeons Company in London, who are to inspect into, and make Judgment of, the State of his Body or Mind, and of his Unfitness to serve His Majesty, and to make Report thereof under their Hands.

Pensions to be equal to their Pay.

V. Officers, whose Employments are constant, being admitted to Superannuation, shall receive an annual Pension equal to their Pay in the Ship of the highest Rate they have served in.

Pension to Masters to be half their Pay. Surgeons to have the same Pension as Masters.

VI. The Pensions to be allowed to Masters shall be equal to Half their Pay, according to the aforegoing Rule. Surgeons in this Respect shall be esteemed as Masters; that is to say, a Surgeon, superannuated from a Ship of the First Rate, shall enjoy a Pension equal to a Master superannuated from the First Rate, and so on.

Commission Officers to be considered, as their Case shall deserve.

VII. His Majesty is pleased to reserve to himself to consider the Merits and Pretensions of Commission Officers, who shall be worn out or disabled in His Service, as their Case shall be represented to Him by the Lord High Admiral, or Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and to settle such Allowances or Pensions upon them, as His Majesty shall think fit.

APPENDIX.

His Majesty's Orders relating to the Respects to be paid to Flag-Officers and Commodores, from the Troops in Forts and Garrisons.

GEORGE R. VI

WHEREAS We have thought fit to order, that the several Admirals of our Fleet shall have, upon all Occasions, the same Respects paid to them from Our Troops when they come into any of our Forts and Garrisons where our Forces are, as the respective Generals of our Army have paid them from Our Forces; Our Will and Pleasure therefore is, that the following Rules be duly observed and put in Execution.

That the Admirals, with the Flags on the main Top, have the same Respects from the Troops with Generals of Horse or Foot; that is, upon all Occasions to have the March beat to them, and to be saluted by all the Officers, the Colours excepted.

That Vice-Admirals have the same Respects as Lieutenants General of Horse or Foot; that is, upon all Occasions to be saluted by all the Officers in the Garrison, and to have three Ruffles given them.

That

That Rear-Admirals have the ſame Reſpects as Majors General; which is, to have two Ruffles, and not be ſaluted by any Officer.

That Commodores with broad Pendants have the ſame Reſpects as Brigadiers General; which is, to have one Ruffle. Given at our Court at Kenſington, the 27th Day of June 1734, in the Eighth Year of Our Reign.

By His Majeſty's Command,

William Strickland.

REGULATIONS

AND

INSTRUCTIONS

Relating to His MAJESTY's

SERVICE at SEA.

Additional REGULATIONS and ARTICLES

Made in Addition to those established in the Year 1731.

For the Government of His Majesty's Service at Sea.

ARTICLE I.

Captains of His Majesty's Ships are not to permit any Person whatsoever, except Officers belonging to the Ship, to come on board their Ships, without Leave from the Captain, Lieutenant, or Commanding Officer; and no Officer is to give Leave to more than Two Persons at one Time, nor to any Person whatsoever, between the Hours of Eight at Night and Six in the Morning, without Leave in Writing from the Captain, Lieutenant, or Commanding Officer; and no Officer is to give Leave to any Person whatsoever to come on board, or to go from on board, between the Hours of Nine at Night and Six in the Morning, except in Case of Sickness, or Death in the Family of any Officer, or Seaman, belonging to the Ship, or for the Service of the Ship, or of the Navy in general

By the Commiſſioners for Executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain and Ireland, &c.

Additional REGULATIONS and INSTRUCTIONS relating to His Majeſty's Service at Sea.

ARTICLE I.

WHEREAS by the Fifty-ninth Article of the General printed Inſtructions, the Captains of His Majeſty's Ships are permitted, when they are removed by Commiſſion from one Ship into another, to carry along with them the following Number of Men, including their own Servants, viz.

When removed to another Ship, to remove only his own Servants with him.

Rate		Men
From a	1*ſt* — — —	80
	2*d* — — —	65
	3*d* — — —	50
	4*th* — — —	40
	5*th* — — —	20
	6*th* — — —	10

But the ſame having been attended with Inconveniencies and Prejudice to the Service, every Commander is hereby required, when a Preſs ſhall be on Foot, never to remove with him from one Ship into another, any Number of Men whatſoever, his own Servants excepted, without a written Order for ſo doing from the Admiralty, or the Commander in Chief at the Port where the Ship may be.

II.

Not to diſcharge any Man, without particular Order.

There being Reaſon to believe, that, in Times of Preſſing, the Captains of ſome of His Majeſty's Ships have taken an unjuſtifiable Liberty of diſcharging Men whom they did not like, or ſending them on Shore in their Boats, thereby giving them an Opportunity of Deſerting; every Commander of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels is hereby ſtrictly charged and required (when a Preſs ſhall be on Foot) not to preſume to diſcharge any Man on any Account whatſoever, without an Order from this Board, or a Flag Officer; and to avoid giving Opportunities for Deſertion, he is as ſtrictly charged, never to ſend or employ any Men on Shore, (if it can poſſibly be avoided) or ſend any in Merchant Ships in Lieu of Preſt Men, or to give Leave of Abſence to any, unleſs they are truſt-worthy, and may be depended upon for their Return; but to take Care to keep them ſtrictly to their Duty, unleſs there ſhall be an abſolute Neceſſity, by Reaſon of Sickneſs, to ſend them to Hoſpitals for Cure; and, in that Caſe, to take as much Care as poſſible may be, that they be ſent on Shore in ſuch Manner as not to give them Opportunity to desert, and that they be brought on board again as soon as recovered of their Sickness.

Not to give Opportunities for Deſertion.

III.

There being great Reason to believe, that it is a frequent Practice for Commanders of His Majesty's Ships to send Men to Hospitals or Sick Quarters for slight Ailments or Hurts, which might very well be taken Care of and cured on Board the Ships to which they belong: And whereas such Proceeding is not only burthensome to the Publick, by occasioning a great additional Expence while the Men are under Cure, but is attended with a still much worse Consequence to the Service, by the Loss of many Men, who make use of the Opportunity thereby afforded them to Desert; For Remedy of these Evils, every Commander of his His Majesty's Ships and Vessels is hereby strictly enjoined, never to send any Men to an Hospital or Sick Quarters, unless their Distempers or Hurts are such, or the Number of Sick and Hurt so great, that they cannot be taken due Care of on Board, which the Surgeon of the Ship is to certify, under his Hand, before any Man whatever is sent to such Hospital or Quarters; And in order to a due Observance hereof, we do farther direct, that when any Men are sent Sick on Shore, the Physician and Surgeon of the Hospital do forthwith examine them; and if they find any who might have been taken due Care of, and probably cured in a little Time on Board their Ships, and therefore ought not, agreeable to the aforegoing

No Sick to be sent on Shore, except such as cannot be taken due Care of on Board.

aforegoing Injunction, to have been ſent on Shore, they are to certify the ſame to the Commanding Officer at the Port, who is immediately to cauſe them to be returned to their Ships, and to tranſmit the Certificate from the Phyſician and Surgeon to the Navy-Board, who are thereupon to cauſe Twenty Shillings for each Man ſo improperly ſent on Shore, to be charged againſt the Wages of the Surgeon of the Ship from which they were ſent, and to be abated therefrom.

And whenever the Hoſpitals or Sick Quarters are viſited by a Commiſſioner for Sick and Hurt, who is a Phyſician or Surgeon, if he finds any Perſons entertained therein, who ought not, agreeable to the aforegoing Regulation, to have been received, the Commiſſioners for Sick and Hurt are to cauſe the Surgeon and the Agent at the Hoſpital or Sick Quarters to be mulcted Twenty Shillings each, for every Man ſo entertained.

IV.

To ſend Accounts monthly, and on Return from a Cruize, to the Admiralty, of Men diſcharged, deſerted, and dead.

He is ſtrictly enjoined punctually to comply with the latter Part of the Eighteenth Article of the General printed Inſtructions, directing (if the Ship is in Great-Britain or Ireland) a monthly Account of Men diſcharged to be ſent to the Admiralty Office; and in Addition thereto, he is, whenever the Ship puts into any Port of Great Britain or Ireland from a Cruize, to ſend a like Account of Men diſcharged, between the Time the laſt Account ended, and the Time of ſo putting into Port. He is alſo ſtrictly to comply comply with the Sixteenth Article of the ſaid Inſtructions, by ſending conſtant Accounts to the Secretary of the Admiralty, of Men who Deſert, at the Times ſuch Deſertions happen; and, moreover, whenever he ſends an Account of Men diſcharged as above directed, he is ſtrictly enjoined to tranſmit an Account of Men who have deſerted within the ſame Period of Time that the Account of diſcharged Men includes, and to note againſt them the ſeveral Particulars preſcribed in the 15th Article of the ſaid Inſtructions. He is alſo further ſtrictly directed, when he ſends the aforementioned Accounts, to tranſmit with them a Third Account, containing the Names and Qualities of all the Men who have died within the ſame Periods of Time: And if he ſhall have Supernumeraries on board, he is to diſtinguiſh in each Account, which of the Men were Part of his Complement, and which were Supernumeraries.

V.

Great Inconvenience having ariſen to the Service, and alſo great Diſcouragement to Seamen ſerving in His Majeſty's Ships, from Captains ſometimes diſcharging Men without Tickets, every Commander is hereby enjoined to a very ſtrict and punctual Compliance with the 17th Article of the General printed Inſtructions, (under the Head of the Captain, or Commander) in Relation to making out Tickets for every Perſon who ſhall be diſcharged; and, if the Party ſhall be dead or abſent, the Commander is ſtrictly charged to

To make out a Ticket for every Man diſcharged.

to tranſmit his Ticket immediately, or by the very firſt Opportunity, to the Navy-Board. And whenever any Ticket is made out, he is ſtrictly charged to ſee, that all Deductions of any Kind whatſoever, that ought to be made from the Wages of the Party, be carefully ſet off, upon Pain of making good the Value of any Failure therein.

VI.

Pay Liſts to be made out for Men diſcharged from one Ship to another.

Whenever any Men borne for Wages ſhall be diſcharged from one Ship or Veſſel to another, the Captain of the Ship or Veſſel from which they ſhall be diſcharged is to be particularly careful to ſend immediately to the Navy-Board proper Pay Liſts for ſuch Men, in order that they may be paid the Wages due to them as ſoon as poſſible after their being ſo diſcharged.

VII.

Particular Tickets to be ſent to the Agent for Sick and Hurt, with all ſick Men ſent on Shore.

Whereas it generally happens, that when any of His Majeſty's Ships proceed to Sea, they leave Men at an Hoſpital, or Sick Quarters, and ſome of thoſe Men are afterwards diſcharged from thence unſerviceable; or (as is ſometimes the Caſe) being diſcharged from the Hoſpital or Sick Quarters into Ships near at Hand, they are in a ſhort Time turned on Shore, as unfit for Service: And whereas Men under either Circumſtance are reduced to great Diſtreſs and Miſery for Want of their Wages, which, by the preſent Regulations, cannot be paid, becauſe they have not the uſual Tickets of Diſcharge; in order to give the poor

Men

Men Relief herein, the Navy-Board are to cauſe printed Tickets, in the Form, Pages (230, 231.) to be iſſued to the ſeveral Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels, who are hereby ſtrictly charged, to take care timely to apply for the ſame, and always to have a ſufficient Number of the ſaid Tickets by them; and whenever any Man, whether Seaman or Marine, is ſent to an Hoſpital or Sick Quarters from any Ship or Veſſel of his Majeſty's, her Commander is never to fail ſending one of the ſaid Tickets with him to the Agent for Sick and Hurt, and to be particularly careful, that the reſpective Columns be duly filled up, becauſe, if the Man ſhall be diſcharged unſerviceable from the Hoſpital or Sick Quarters, or put on board any other Ship than that from which he was ſent, the Agent is to tranſmit the ſaid Ticket, together with the cuſtomary Ticket of Diſcharge from the Hoſpital, to the Commiſſioner of the Navy at the Port, or to the Navy-Board, and from them a proper Ticket is to be forthwith made out, and the Wages paid; or if the Man ſhall be put on board any other Ship beſides that from which he was ſent to the Hoſpital or Quarters, and ſhall be turned on Shore unſerviceable before he gets back to his proper Ship, a Ticket is to be made out, and his Wages paid as aforeſaid, as ſoon as ſuch Caſe happens: As therefore the aſcertaining the Wages due to the Man will depend upon the Accuracy in filling up the Ticket above directed, to be ſent with him to the Agent for Sick and Hurt, the Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels are, reſpectively, to be reſponſible for the Conſequence of any Failure therein.

VIII.

New-raiſed Men to be inſtructed in the Duty of Seamen.

It being of great Conſequence to His Majeſty's Service, that all new-raiſed Men, and others, who may not be good Seamen, ſhould be inſtructed and trained up in whatever may tend to make them moſt uſeful; the Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels are to cauſe all ſuch Men daily to laſh up their Hammacoes, and carry them to the proper Places for barricading the Ship, whenever the Weather will permit: And alſo to take Care, that they be practiſed in going frequently every Day up and down the Shrouds, and employ'd on all Kinds of Work, which are to be created on Purpoſe for them, both to keep them in Action, and to teach them the Duty of Seamen.

IX.

To diſcipline the Ships Company frequently in Military Exerciſes.

Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships being directed, (by the 35th Article of the General printed Inſtructions) before they ſail out of Port, to make a Regulation for quartering the Officers and Men, and diſtributing them to the Great Guns, Small Arms, Rigging, &c. and to diſcipline their Ships Companies frequently in the Exerciſe of the ſame, ſetting down in their Journals the Times they are ſo exerciſed: And as a Remiſſneſs therein, by not exerciſing the Men ſufficiently often to render them expert in all Particulars, may be attended attended with very ill Conſequences to His Majeſty's Service in Times of Action, all Commanders are ſtrictly enjoined to a punctual Obſervance of the ſaid Article of their Inſtructions, and not to fail to ſet down in their Journals the Times they exerciſe their Men.

X.

To train a certain Number of the Company to the Uſe of Small Arms.

It being of great Importance to His Majeſty's Service, that as many as may be of the Men belonging to His Majeſty's Ships, and more eſpecially ſuch of them as are Landmen, ſhould be exerciſed, and trained up to the Uſe of Small Arms; the Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels are to cauſe a Number of their Men, at leaſt equal to what is expreſſed in the undermentioned Scheme, (excluſive of Marines) to be daily, or as frequently as poſſible, exerciſed, and trained up in the Uſe of Small Arms, under the particular Care and Direction of the Lieutenant at Arms, (where any ſuch ſhall be appointed) the Maſter at Arms, and Corporal, that ſo they may be as perfect as 'tis poſſible in the Uſe thereof, on all Occaſions which may require the ſame.

Rules for preſerving Cleanlineſs.

Cleanlineſs being of great Conſequence to the Health of the Men, all Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels are ſtrictly required to cauſe the following Rules to be punctually comply'd with.

1. That all the Men on Board, whether new-raiſed or others, do conſtantly keep themſelves as clean in every Reſpect as poſſible.

2. That the Ship be aired between Decks as much as may be; and that ſhe be always kept thoroughly clean.

3. That all neceſſary Precautions be uſed, by placing proper Centinels, or otherwiſe, to prevent Peoples eaſing themſelves in the Hold, or throwing any Thing there that may occaſion Naſtineſs.

4. That no Fruit or ſtrong Liquors be ſold on Board the Ship.

5. That no Women be ever permitted to be on Board, but ſuch as are really the Wives of the Men they come to; and the Ship not to be too much peſtered even with them. But this Indulgence is only tolerated while the Ship is in Port, and not under Sailing Orders.

XII. His

XII.

To bear the eſtabliſhed Number of Armourers' Mates.

His Majeſty having directed, by His Order in Council of the 3d Day of June, 1747, That, in order to keep the Arms on Board His Ships in conſtant good Condition, two Armourers' Mates be allowed to all Ships from Seventy Guns upwards, and one Armourer's Mate to all Ships under Seventy Guns as far as Sloops of One Hundred Men incluſive, and that they be appointed by the Ordnance-Board.

Every Commander is to pay Obedience thereto, according to the Relation it may have to the Ship or Sloop under his Command.

XIII.

To expend the oldeſt Proviſions firſt, and replace the ſame with new.

Whenever any of His Majeſty's Ships or Veſſels are ordered to be victualled for a certain Time, and the Proviſions to be kept compleat till the Ship or Veſſel ſails, her Commander is always to expend upon the oldeſt Proviſions on Board firſt, and to replace it with new from the Victualling Stores on Shore, keeping up the ſaid Proviſions compleat, according to Orders; and to do the ſame by whatever Beer may be on Board.

XIV.

To apply for as much Water Caſk as the Ship can conveniently ſtow.

The Commiſſioners of the Victualling being directed to ſupply all His Majeſty's Ships, whether victualled for Channel or Foreign Service, with as much Water-Caſk as their Captains ſhall demand, and to cauſe the ſame to be furniſhed in ſuch ſized Caſk as the Captains ſhall

ſhall apply for, either Butts, Puncheons, Hogſheads, or Barrels; all Commanders are to have Regard thereto, and to apply for ſuch Quantity of Water-Caſks as they can conveniently ſtow.

XV.

Rules to be obſerved in the receiving and ſerving of freſh Meat.

Every Commander is to take Care, that all Freſh Meat, ſupplied for the Uſe of his Company, be perfectly good and wholeſome. And in order to a juſt Diſtribution thereof, and for preventing any Occaſion of Complaints on that Head, the ſame is to be ſent on Board in Quarters, which are to be cut up, and equally divided into the uſual Meſs Pieces, in ſome convenient and publick Part of the Ship, open to the View of the Company, and under the particular Inſpection and Superviſal of a Lieutenant, the Maſter, and a Mate, to be appointed by the Captain for that Purpoſe: And when the ſame is boiled, it is to be delivered out in the cuſtomary Manner of Pricking fairly for it; and no Quarters, or particular Pieces, to be reſerved, or picked for the Officers, or Petty-Officers, or any other Perſons; or any Diſtinction, Favour, or Partiality ſhewn therein; and the Names of the Lieutenant, Maſter and Mate, who ſupervise the Cutting up the ſaid Meat, are to be inſerted in the Ship's Log-Book, that in Caſe of any Complaint, it may be known who were the Superviſors.

And whereas ſome of the eldeſt Purſers of the Royal Navy did ſome Time ſince preſent a Memorial in Behalf of themſelves, and the reſt of their Brethren, repreſenting, repreſenting, that it had been their conſtant Practice, as often as their reſpective Ships were victualled with Freſh Meat, to boil ſuch a Quantity of Greens and Roots with it, as to give ſufficient Satisfaction to the Men; and that, to give them no Room to murmur on Account of the Saving of Peaſe by boiling Freſh Meat, they boil Peaſe for their Mondays Dinners, beſides their allowed Oatmeal for Breakfaſts; and propoſing, if the Greens and Roots furniſhed by them ſhould not be judged ſufficient for the Men, to increaſe the ſame to any Quantity that ſhould be preſcribed; all Commanders are to take Care, that their reſpective Purſers do comply with what is contained in the ſaid Memorial, by furniſhing a ſufficient Quantity of Roots and Greens to the Seamen, with their Freſh Meat; or to repreſent to us, if they fail therein.

XVI.

Rules to be obſerved in Relation to Spirituous Liquors.

Whenever any of His Majeſty's Ships or Veſſels are ſupplied with Brandy, Rum, Malt Spirits, or other Spirituous Liquor in Lieu of Beer, the ſame is to be ſent on Board in Puncheons, Hogſheads, and Quarter Caſks, ſuch a Part of each as can be moſt conveniently ſtowed: But the Keeping as well as Iſſuing the ſaid Liquors being liable to dangerous Accidents, if proper Care be not taken; For Prevention therefore of ſuch Accidents, the Store Rooms for holding the ſaid Liquors are to be fitted in the following Manner, when there is Time, Opportunity, and Room, to do it; and the other Methods hereafter mentioned are ers to be obſerved in Iſſuing or Starting the ſaid Liquors, to wit; The Foremoſt Bulkhead of the Fifth-Room to be removed two or three Feet aft, and a Bulkhead put up afore it, about five or ſix Feet Diſtance, athwart the Hold, up to the Orlop, with Hatches of Oak Plank, to be ſluſh with the Orlop, to have ſufficient Rabbit at the Ends and Sides, with proper Bars and Locks to ſecure them; the Platform or Orlop over them, and the Bulkheads and Hatches, to be lined and plaiſtered in the ſame Manner as thoſe for the Powder-Rooms; and the Seams of the Footwailing to be batton'd; and a ſmall Store-Room Lanthorn to be fixed a little below the Platform, near the midſhip Part, either in the foremoſt or aftermoſt Bulkhead, with a ſmall Scuttle through the Platform, clear of the Bulkhead, and an incloſed Convenience under the Platform, to ſecure Room to put the Candle into the Lanthorn, at ſuch Time as the Hatchways do not afford ſufficient Light to ſee to ſling the Caſks; which, when the ſaid Liquors are wanted, either to be iſſued to the Ship's Company, or ſtarted into ſmaller Caſk, are to be hoiſted on the upper Deck; and, whilſt this is doing, proper Centinels are to be placed to prevent Candles being brought near the Hatches while they are open, or near the Liquor while it is ſerving, or ſtarting, on the Deck; neither of which is ever to be done but by Day-light: All Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels are hereby ſtrictly required and directed to be very careful, that the Whole of the ſaid Methods be put in Execution, if the Store-

Rooms

Rooms can be fitted in the Manner aforementioned; but if they cannot be ſo fitted, all the other Precautions, of placing proper Centinels, not ſuffering Candles to be carried near the Liquor, cauſing it always to be iſſued and ſtarted upon the open Deck, and never ſuffering either to be done but by Day-light, are to be moſt punctually obſerved.

XVII.

Spirituous Liquors to be always ſerved mixt with Water: And none to be ſuffered to drink Drams.

And whereas it is of a very pernicious Conſequence, to ſuffer the Seamen to drink in Drams the Allowance made to them of any Kind of Spirituous Liquor in Lieu of Beer; and it having been found by Experience, that the Serving it mixed with Water is very conducive to the Preſervation of their Health; Every Commander is therefore ſtrictly charged, never to ſuffer any Kind of Spirituous Liquor to be iſſued by itſelf, to the Company of the Ship or Veſſel under his Command, but to cauſe the Allowance for all the Officers and Company, to be every Day mixed with a due Proportion of Water upon Deck, in the Preſence of the Lieutenant and two other Officers of the Watch, who are to be ſtrictly charged to take Care that the Men be not defrauded in their Allowance: And he is alſo to give ſtrict Charge to all his Officers, to be very careful, in their reſpective Watches, to prevent Spirituous Liquors of any Kind being conveyed on Board the Ship, and to uſe all poſſible Vigilance to prevent Drams being drank by any of the Ship's Company.

XVII. Commanders of Ships and Veſſels ſtationed in Parts where a Contract ſhall be ſubſiſting with the Commiſſioners of the Victualling, for furniſhing Proviſions to His Majeſty's Ships, are ſtrictly charged to cauſe whatever Proviſions they may have Occaſion for, to be received from the Contractor or his Agent; and to be particularly careful, that timely Notice be given to him, from Time to Time, of the Quantity wanted; and never to procure Proviſions in any other Manner, while the Contractor, or his Agent, ſhall be able to ſupply the ſame; but Commanders of Ships or Veſſels ſtationed in the Weſt Indies, or any Part of North America, are never to compleat their Proviſions to more than three Months for their Complement at whole Allowance, unleſs any particular Service they may be going upon ſhall neceſſarily require it; nor are they, when they ſhall return Home, to compleat to a larger Proportion than three Months, for their Paſſage; taking Notice, that they are to be accountable for any Loſs which may accrue to His Majeſty, in Caſe they fail punctually to comply herewith.

Proviſions to be always procured of Contractors, where there are any.

Ships in America never to compleat to more than 3 Months.

XIX. The Want of timely Accounts being tranſmitted to the Commiſſioners of the Victualling, having occaſioned frequent Miſtakes, to the Prejudice of the Crown, in the making out Purſers Ballance Bills; every Commander of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels is ſtrictly enjoined

An Account of Proviſions, received, &c. returned, &c. to be ſent every three Months to the Victualling-Office.

enjoined to tranſmit to the ſaid Commiſſioners, at the End of every three Months, or as ſoon after as Opportunity ſhall offer, an Account of all Proviſions, and Victualling Stores received, returned, lent, or caſt by Survey, ſigned by himſelf, the Maſter, and the Purſer; and to cauſe the ſaid Account to be entered in two Books, and ſigned as above; one to remain with himſelf, the other with the Purſer, to be produced on their paſſing their reſpective Accounts: And at the Bottom of each Account ſo entered, Mention is to be made by what Conveyance the Original was ſent to the Victualling-Office. And all Commanders are to take Notice, that if any Miſtake ſhall happen, to the Prejudice of the Crown, from their failing to comply herewith, the ſame is to be made good out of their Wages.

XX.

Timely Applications to be made for Slop-Cloaths; and none to be procured but from the Contractors.

Repreſentations having been made that ſome of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels which have gone on Foreign Service, inſtead of being furniſhed with ſuch Proportions of each Species of Slop-Cloaths, as might be judged needful for the Uſe of their reſpective Complements of Men, have gone Abroad with few or none, which is not only a Breach of the General printed Inſtructions under the Head of Slop-Cloaths, but to the great Diſadvantage and Diſcouragement of the Seamen; and alſo to the great Prejudice of the Contractor, who is obliged always to have in Readineſs a ſufficient Quantity to anſwer the Neceſſities of the Seamen; Every Commander is therefore hereby ſtrictly charged and required, not only to take Care to be ſupplied with ſufficient Quantities, from Time to Time, while the Ship or Veſſel ſhall be employed in Home Service; but to take particular Care, whenever ſhe ſhall be fitted for, or ordered on, Foreign Service, timely to demand and receive on Board a proper Quantity of Slop-Cloaths for the Uſe of her Company, for the Voyage on which ſhe ſhall be deſigned. And in Caſe they fall ſhort, while Abroad, he is timely to demand a freſh Supply of the Contractors, or their Agent, and to acquaint the Navy-Board therewith; and never to ſuffer any to be purchaſed at any Place whatſoever, while they can be furniſhed by the ſaid Contractors, or their Agent; thereby to prevent, as far as poſſible, the Neceſſity of procuring them on worſe Terms to the Ship's Company, and to the Diſappointment and Prejudice of the Contractors.

To make proper Abatements from Slops ſupplied inferior in Goodneſs to Contract.

But frequent Complaints having been alſo made of the Badneſs of Slops furniſhed to His Majeſty's Ships by the Contractors; Every Commander is ſtrictly enjoined, whenever any of thoſe ſupplied for the Uſe of his Ship's Company appear to be inferior in any Reſpect to the Patterns, never to fail cauſing proper Abatements to be made in the Prices, agreeable to the firſt Article under the afore-mentioned Head in the General printed Inſtructions; the being always ſtrictly punctual therein, being the only Means of doing Juſtice to the Men, and of cauſing Care to be taken for ſupplying them with Slops of due Goodneſs. When

Slops,

Slops, or Bedding, come on Board, he is to see if one Parcel thereof be marked with the Navy-Office Seal, as prescribed by the first Article of the aforesaid Instructions; and if there shall be none, he is immediately to acquaint the Navy-Board therewith.

XXI.

New-raised Men to be supplied with necessary Cloaths and Bedding, not exceeding the Value of two Months Wages.

When any new-raised Men, either Voluntiers, or Prest, appear first on Board any of His Majesty's Ships or Vessels, (whether as Part of her Complement, or Supernumeraries) Examination is to be made how they are furnished with Cloaths and Bedding; and the Captain is to cause such as shall be in Want thereof to be forthwith supplied, according to their several Necessities, not exceeding in the Whole, to any Person, the Amount of two Months Wages; and to be cautious not to let the press'd Men have any Thing more than shall be absolutely necessary to keep them clean, and protected against the Weather: And if any of the said new-raised Men shall be received from any other Ship or Vessel, he is to satisfy himself, whether they have already been supplied with Cloaths or Bedding, (which is to appear upon a List, prescribed in the next succeeding Article to be delivered with them) and if they have, he is not to suffer more to be issued to them, unless it will come within the afore-mentioned Amount of two Months Wages, 'till the same can be done consistent with the third Article of the General printed Instructions, under the Head of Slop-Cloaths. And every Commander is to take Care, that the Slops and Bedding, ſupplied to Voluntiers upon their coming into the Service, be ſet off upon the Liſts to be ſent to the Navy-Board, for their two Months Advance-Wages.

that

XXII.

Liſts to be ſent with Men borne for Victuals only, removed from one Ship into another.

When any Men, raiſed for His Majeſty's Service, and borne on Board a Ship or Veſſel for Victuals only, are removed from her into any other Ship or Veſſel, a Liſt, ſigned by the Commander, is to be ſent with them, containing their Names, whether Voluntiers or Preſt, and the Times of their being reſpectively entered for His Majeſty's Service; from which Times they are to be borne for Wages upon the Books of any Ship or Veſſel in which they ſhall ſerve as Part of her Complement; and particular Care is to be taken, to ſet off upon ſuch Liſt, the Value of all Slop-Cloaths or Bedding, that may have been ſupplied to any of the Men contained therein, upon Pain of it's being deducted from the Wages of any Commander, who ſhall fail to have the ſame duly ſet off: And the Commander of any Ship or Veſſel, into which any ſuch Men are removed, is to take Care, that a Liſt, agreeable to what is above preſcribed, be received with them; and (whether he receives them as Supernumeraries, or as Part of his Complement) he is carefully to note on his Books, from what Ship or Veſſel they came, the Times of their firſt Entry into the Service, and of their Appearance on Board his Ship; and to charge againſt their Names the Value of the Slops and and Bedding ſet off upon the ſaid Liſt, and noting in what Ship or Veſſel the ſame was iſſued to them: And when his Books are delivered into the Navy-Office, the ſaid Liſt is to be delivered with them.

XXIII.

Cheſts and Bedding to be ſent with Men removed from one Ship into another.

Whenever any Men (either Part of the Complement or Supernumeraries) are removed from one Ship or Veſſel to another, the Commander of the Ship or Veſſel they are removed from, is to cauſe their Cheſts, Bedding, and Cloaths, to be carefully ſent with them; and the Commander of the Ship or Veſſel they are removed into, is to cauſe Enquiry to be made of the Men, what Cheſts, Bedding, and Cloaths, are belonging to them, and to take Care that the ſame be brought on Board.

XXIV.

Never to proceed to Sea with more Men than the Complement, without particular Order.

Every Commander of his Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels is ſtrictly enjoined (notwithſtanding any general Order for bearing Supernumeraries) never to proceed to Sea with more Men on Board than the allowed Complement, without a particular Order for ſo doing from the Admiralty, or from a Flag-Officer, or Commander in Chief; in which is to be expreſſed, that it is grounded upon Directions from the Admiralty: And he is to take Notice, that he is to make Good to the Crown all Charges ariſing from the Wages and Victuals of any Men, that he ſhall carry to Sea contrary hereunto, or that he ſhall at any Time bear irregularly.

Rules to be obſerved in Providing and Recruiting the Surgeons' Cheſts.

The Maſter and Wardens of the Company of Apothecaries, having frequently made Repreſentations of the Proceedings of ſome of the Surgeons of His Majeſty's Ships, with regard to the Providing and Recruiting their Cheſts; and it being of great Conſequence to the Lives of the Seamen, to have the utmoſt Care taken that the Medicines ſhould be as good as poſſible; Every Commander of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels is ſtrictly charged to take Care, that the following Regulations (as well as all other Directions contained in the General printed Inſtructions relating to the Surgeons) be punctually complied with.

When a Surgeon is warranted to ſerve in any of His Majeſty's Ships, he is immediately to provide himſelf with a Cheſt of Medicines from the Company of Apothecaries, and with proper Inſtruments, according to the Rules of the Navy; and preſent the ſame to be viewed by the Phyſicians in the Commiſſion of Sick and Wounded; or (if there be none) by the Phyſician of Greenwich-Hoſpital, in Conjunction with the Governors of the Surgeons' Company; who are to take Care, that all the Inſtruments, Drugs and Medicines, be of proper Goodneſs, and of the Sorts and Quantity required, and to give him a Certificate thereof; and when the Survey is over, the Cheſt is to be locked, and the Seals of the Phyſicians, and of the Surgeons' Company, to be affixed thereto, in ſuch Manner as to prevent it's being afterwards opened, 'till it comes on Board;

Board; nor is the Captain to admit any Cheſt into the Ship, but what has been taken from the Company of Apothecaries, and having thoſe Marks upon it.

At the End of every ſix Months, if the Ship is in Great Britain, or as ſoon after as ſhe returns thither, the Surgeon is to recruit his Cheſt from the Apothecaries' Company; and he is alſo to do the like whenever the Ship is ordered upon Foreign Service: And he is not to be paid his Wages or Two-pences without his producing a Certificate from the Maſter and Wardens of that Company, that he has taken his Medicines from them, or that they have no Objection to his being paid ſuch Wages and Two-pences.

If the Cheſt ſhall be recruited in London, the Remains of Medicines and Drugs therein, together with ſuch as ſhall be added thereto, are to be ſurvey'd in the Manner aforementioned; but if recruited in the Out-Ports, the Phyſician and Surgeon of the Sick and Hurt at the Port, or if there is only one of thoſe Officers, he and the Surgeon of the Yard, are to make the Survey; but if there ſhould be neither of thoſe Officers of the Sick and Hurt, the Surgeon of the Yard is to do it ſingly: And particular Care is to be taken to deſtroy all ſuch Medicines, or Drugs, as may be found in the Cheſt of inſufficient Goodneſs.

XXVI.

To apply for the eſtabliſhed Proportion of Dr. James's Fever Powders; and direct the Surgeon to adminiſter them

It appearing by the Reports of Experiments made of Dr. James's Fever Powders on Board His Majeſty's Ships, that it is a very efficacious Medicine for curing Fevers at Sea; and it having thereupon been thought proper, proper, that the ſaid Powders ſhould be ſupplied by the Commiſſioners for Sick and Hurt Seamen, to all His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels put into Commiſſion, in the following Proportion.

Number of Papers for ſix Months for One Hundred Men, and ſo in Proportion for the Complement of a Ship or Sloop of War employed at the Places under-mentioned.

	Channel.	Newfoundland, Liſbon, or Mediterranean.	Coaſt of Africa and the Weſt-Indies.
N° of Papers.	25	50	75

To direct the Surgeon to obſerve Inſtructions relating to Elixir of Vitriol.

Their Commanders are accordingly to apply to the ſaid Commiſſioners, for a Number of Papers to be furniſhed to their Surgeons, agreeable to the ſaid Proportion; And proper Quantities of the ſaid Powders being directed to be lodged in the Hands of the Agents to the ſaid Commiſſioners, both at Home and Abroad, for ſupplying the Surgeons of His Majeſty's Ships with what may be wanted, after their firſt Fitting out, upon a Demand in Writing ſigned by the Captain; and it being judged proper, that when ſuch Demand ſhall be made, the Surgeons ſhall, at the ſame Time, tranſmit to the Commiſſioners for Sick and Hurt, (if in Home-Service) or to their Agent, (if Abroad) a perfect and diſtinct Account, verified by their Affidavit, of the Expenditure of the Powders they were before furniſhed with, together with the Name of each Perſon to whom they adminiſtered the ſame, to ſecure the Crown from any Fraud or Embezzlement; the Captain is to take Care, when the ſaid Demand is made, that the Surgeon ſends therewith ſuch an Account and Affidavit as is above ſpecified. And the Captain is ſtrictly charged to enjoin his Surgeon to adminiſter the ſaid Powders in all Caſes for which it is recommended by Dr. James, and in the Manner adviſed by him, of which they are to be informed by the Commiſſioners for Sick and Hurt; and to ſee, as far as he ſhall be able, that the ſame be comply'd with.

Ventilators to be worked half an Hour in every Watch.

XXVII.

To direct the Surgeon to obſerve Inſtructions relating to Elixir of Vitriol.

Elixir of Vitriol having been recommended by the College of Phyſicians as an efficacious Medicine in Scorbutick Caſes, and the ſame being made a Part of the Invoice of the Surgeon's Sea-Cheſt; the Captain is to order the Surgeon to obſerve ſuch printed Inſtructions as will be given to them by the Commiſſioners of the Sick and Hurt, for their Guidance in the Practice and Care of it.

XXVIII.

Ventilators to be worked half an Hour in every Watch.

Whereas His Majeſty's Ships are ordered to be furniſhed with Ventilators, at a very great Expence, in order to keep the Ships free from foul Air, and the Captains in the Navy, in general, not underſtanding the proper Uſe of them; they are hereby ſtrictly required and directed, to cauſe them to be made uſe of, at leaſt one half Hour in every Watch; and the Mate of the Watch to note in the Log-Book the Time of it's being ſo made uſe of.

XXIX.

Fifteen Shillings to be charged against the Wages of any Man cured of a Venereal Diſorder.

When the Surgeon of any of his Majeſty's Ships or Veſſels has cured any Petty Officer, Foremaſtman, or Marine, of a Venereal Diſorder, the Surgeon is to acquaint his Captain therewith, who is to examine the Perſon ſaid to be cured; and finding the ſame to be Fact, is to charge the Sum of Fifteen Shillings againſt his Name, in a Blank Column on the Ship's Books, which is to be abated from his Wages, for the Uſe of the Surgeon: And in Caſe the Man cured is diſcharged by Ticket, the ſaid Sum is to be charged thereon, for the Surgeon's receiving certain Satisfaction, and preventing the Purchaſers of Tickets being defrauded by a Deduction on the Books, which did not appear upon the Tickets.

XXX.

To give Certificates to Surgeons and Surgeons' Mates.

The Principal Officers and Commiſſioners of His Majeſty's Navy being directed to conſider Surgeons, who have paſſed their Examination before the Governor and Company of Surgeons for a ſixth Rate, as qualified to ſerve as Surgeons of any Rate; and that when any Perſons have paſſed an Examination, and are qualified to ſerve in the Navy as Surgeons' Mates, they ſhould not require them to paſs a ſecond Examination; and it being neceſſary for his Majeſty's Service, that the ſaid Principal Officers and Commiſſioners of the Navy ſhould be always truly informed of the Characters of the Surgeons and Surgeons' Mates, ſerving in the Fleet, the Commanders of His Majeſty's jesty's Ships and Vessels are to grant Certificates to the Surgeons, and Surgeons' Mates who serve under them, setting forth therein their Characters and Experience in their Profession, so far as they can possibly judge thereof; and to be careful in granting such Certificates, that the said Principal Officers of the Navy may not be imposed on in preferring them in the Service of the Navy.

Fifteen Shillings to be charged against the Wages of any Man cured of a Venereal Disorder.

XXXI.

Enforcing the Observation of Instructions relating to Gratuities to the Relations of Men slain.

Whereas the Navy-Board have represented, that several Commanders of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels have been negligent in the Observation of the Eighth Article of that Chapter in their General printed Instructions, which relates to Gratuities to the Relations of Officers and others slain in Fight, by omitting to set down, at the End of their Muster-Books, an Account of the Officers and Men slain, and on what Occasion, as is by the said Article directed; by which Means the Relations entituled to the Bounty, are laid under Difficulties, when they make Application at the Navy-Office for the same; all Commanders are hereby strictly required to observe the Articles of the General Instructions on that Head, for the Future.

To give Certificates to Surgeons and Surgeons' Mates.

And to send to the Navy-Office Certificates of Men slain.

And they having proposed, for the greater Ease of the said Relations in obtaining the Bounty, that, when any Persons are slain, or die of Wounds received in Fight, not only the proper Notation should be made on the Ship's Books, but that the Surgeon, or Surgeon's Mate

Mate of the Ship, ſhould fill up Certificates thereof as ſoon as poſſible, expreſſing therein the Nature of the Wounds; and that the ſaid Certificates ſhould be ſign'd by three or more of the ſigning Officers of the Ship, whereof the Surgeon, (if living) or his Mate to be one and tranſmitted to their Office, by the firſt ſafe Conveyance; every Commander is to take Care that the ſame be conſtantly done.

XXXII.

Timely Demands to be tranſmitted for Supplies of Stores.

All Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels, when in Foreign Parts, are ſtrictly charged to be particularly careful to tranſmit timely Demands to the Navy-Board, and Board of Ordnance, of any Supplies of Naval or Ordnance Stores that may be wanting; and the better to enable thoſe Boards to judge of the Neceſſity for ſuch Supplies, a regular Survey and Account of Stores then remaining for the Uſe of the Ships or Veſſels, with their Condition, is conſtantly to be tranſmitted with every ſuch Demand.

And to ſend with them Survey and Accounts of Stores remaining.

Stores never to be purchaſed, without abſolute Neceſſity.

And all Commanders are hereby ſtrictly charged never to purchaſe, or cauſe to be purchaſed, any Naval or Ordnance Stores, without an abſolute Neceſſity for ſo doing; and to be very careful, that the utmoſt Frugality be uſed in the Expenditure, as well of the Ordnance Stores as of all other Stores belonging to the Ship.

XXXIII.

Rope decayed in Channel Service to be returned into Store.

Whenever there is any Expence of Running Rigging on board any of His Majeſty's Ships, in Home or Channel Service, the Commander is to take Care that that the decayed Rope be not expended, but returned into Store; as otherwise the Boatswain will not be allowed the Expence thereof: And in Foreign Voyages, the Commander is also to be careful not to suffer any of the said decayed Rope to be expended, but by Survey.

In Foreign Voyages, not to be expended but by Survey.

XXXIV.

Whereas by the Fourteenth Article of the General printed Instructions, under the Head of the Captain or Commander, he is directed to send, once in every two Months, two compleat Muster-Books to the Navy-Office: In order to a punctual Compliance therewith, every Commander is hereby strictly required and directed, to deliver the said Books to the Clerk of the Cheque or Naval Officer, at any Port where the said Ship or Vessel may be, when such Books shall be due; in order to his forwarding the same to the Navy-Office; or if the Ship or Vessel shall be station'd where there shall be no Naval Officer, the Commander is not to fail transmitting the same himself, by the very first and safest Opportunities, to that Office; taking Care, that by whomsoever he transmits them, he causes the same to be very carefully sealed up; and he is to take Notice, that if he does not duly comply herewith, and any Accident should befall his other Books, such Neglect will determine this Board never to give him any Relief therein.

To be punctual in sending two Months Muster-Books to the Navy-Office.

XXXV. There

XXXV.

To bear Widows Men.

There being allowed, by Act of Parliament, to be conſtantly borne upon the Books of every Ship of War in Sea-Pay, a Man in every hundred Men, that the Complement of ſuch Ship ſhall conſiſt of; and two Men in every hundred, for ſuch Time as the Number of Men employed in the Service of the Royal Navy, ſhall not exceed Twenty Thouſand: And it being enacted, That the Produce of the Wages of ſuch Seamen, and Value of their Victuals, ſhall be given and applied to the Relief of the poor Widows of Commiſſion and Warrant Officers of the Royal Navy; Every Commander is to enter and bear upon the Books of the Ship or Veſſel he commands, as Part of her Complement, (till he receives Orders to the contrary) ſo many fictitious Names of Men, under the Appellation of Widows Men, with the Number of 1, 2, 3, &c. annexed, as two in every Hundred of her Complement ſhall amount to; obſerving if the Complement, or broken Number of the Complement, amounts to Twenty five or upwards, but leſs than Seventy-five, to allow one Name for ſuch broken Number; but if it amounts to Seventy-five or more, then to allow two for it. The ſaid Names are to be rated able Seamen, and always muſtered for Wages, (but not for Victuals) as if the Men were actually on Board, and when Pay-Books ſhall at any Time be made out for the Payment of the Ship, the ſaid Names are to be entered therein, as if real Seamen, with able Seamens' Pay, free from any Deduction whatſoever.

XXXVI. Every

XXXVI.

To keep an Account of the Condition and Qualities of the Ship.

Every Commander of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels is to keep an Account of his Obſervations of the Condition and Qualities of the Ship or Veſſel he commands, according to the Scheme in Page 232; and before ſhe is laid up, he is to draw out a particular and exact Account of her Qualities, (in Concurrence with the Opinion of his Officers, according to the Sixty-firſt Article of the General printed Inſtructions) and to ſend the ſame in a clear and perfect Manner, according to the ſaid Scheme, to this Office, to the Navy-Board, and to the Maſter-Shipwright of the Yard where the Ship is laid up; taking Notice, that no Certificate is to be given him from our Secretary, 'till he has depoſited the ſaid Account here.

XXXVII.

To take Care the Ship be cleared, when ordered to be paid off.

When any Ship ſhall be under Orders to be paid off, the Commander is ſtrictly to comply with the Sixty-fourth Article of the General Inſtructions, with regard to clearing the Ship of her Stores and Proviſions, and not abſenting himſelf, or ſuffering her Officers or Men to be abſent, till the Ship ſhall be wholly unrigged and cleared, and delivered ſo into the Charge of the Officers of the Yard, who are to give a Certificate of the ſame being done, to be produced to the Navy-Board; without which the Captain's Wages is not to be paid.

XXXVIII.

Regulations relating to Pilots.

In order to give all reasonable Encouragement to ſo uſeful a Body of Men as Pilots, to improve themſelves in the Skill of Pilotage, and to take away all Objections or Diſlike in them to His Majeſty's Service, the following Rules and Orders are to be obſerved.

The Commanders of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels are ſtrictly charged to treat the Pilots with good Uſage, and in equal Reſpect with Warrant-Officers.

The Purſer of the Ship is to provide Bedding for the Pilots, and to have always a Set of Bedding on Board for that Purpoſe; and the Captain is to order them to be ſupplied with Hammacoes, and a convenient Berth to lye in near their Duty, and ſeparate from the Common Men: which Bedding and Hammacoes ſhall be returned to the Purſer, and Boatſwain, when the Pilots leave the Ship.

A Pilot, conducting one of His Majeſty's Ships in Pilot-Water, ſhall have the ſole Charge and Command of the Ship, and may give Orders for ſteering, ſetting, or handing Sails, bracing the Yards, putting the Ship at Stays, or any other Acts that concern the navigating the Ship; and the Captain is to take Care, that all the proper Officers, and Crew of the Ship, do obey his Orders. But the Captain is diligently to obſerve the Conduct of the Pilot, and if he judges him to behave ſo ill, as to bring the Ship into Danger, he may remove him from the Command and Charge of the Ship, and take ſuch Meaſures for the Preſervation of her as ſhall be judged neceſſary, noting down upon the Log-Book, the exact Hour and Time, that the Pilot was removed from his Office, and the Reaſons for it.

Regulations relating to Pilots.

Captains of His Majeſty's Ships, employing Pilots in Foreign Parts of His Majeſty's Dominions, ſhall, after Performance of the Service, give a Certificate thereof to the Pilot, upon producing which to the proper Naval Officer, he ſhall cauſe the ſame to be immediately paid; but if there be no Naval Officer there, the Captain of his Majeſty's Ship ſhall pay him, and ſend the proper Vouchers, with his Bill to the Navy-Board, in order to be paid as Bills of Exchange.

Captains of His Majeſty's Ships, employing Foreign Pilots to carry the Ships they command, into or out of Foreign Ports, ſhall pay them the Rates due by the Eſtabliſhment or Cuſtom of the Country, before they diſcharge them; whoſe Receipts being duly vouched, and ſent with a Certificate of the Service performed to the Navy-Board, they ſhall cauſe the ſame to be paid with the ſame Exactneſs as they do Bills of Exchange.

XXXIX.

To aſſiſt in recovering the Duties for Greenwich Hoſpital and Trinity-Houſe.

Whereas it hath been repreſented by the Directors of the Royal Hoſpital at Greenwich, and the Corporation of the Trinity-Houſe of Deptford Strond, That the Perſons employed by them have met with great Difficulties in recovering their Duties from Foreign Ships and Veſſels, eſpecially the Foreland Lights in the Downs, and other open Roads; and that ſometimes they have not been able to recover any Part thereof from Ships of Force; for which Reaſon they have requeſted the Countenance and Aſſiſtance of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels of War; All Commanders are hereby required, as they have Opportunities for it, to aſſiſt the Perſons employed at the ſeveral Ports on the Coaſt, on Account of the Hoſpital and Trinity-Houſe, in their Collecting and Recovering their aforeſaid Duties from Ships of Foreign Nations; but in the doing thereof, they are to have a particular Regard not to give any juſt Occaſion of Complaint.

XL.

To conform to an Eſtabliſhment for a Uniform Cloathing, and to cauſe his Officers and Midſhipmen to do the like.

It having been judged neceſſary, in order the better to diſtinguiſh the Rank of Sea-Officers, to eſtabliſh a Military Uniform Cloathing, for Admirals, Captains, Commanders, and Lieutenants; and that Perſons acting as Midſhipmen ſhould likewiſe have a Uniform Cloathing in order to their carrying the Appearance which is neceſſary to diſtinguiſh their Claſs to be in the Rank of Gentlemen, and give them better Credit and Figure in executing the Commands of their Superior Officers; Every Commander is hereby required and directed to conform himſelf to the ſaid Eſtabliſhment, by wearing Cloathing accordingly at all proper Times; and to take Care, that ſuch of the aforeſaid Officers and Midſhipmen, who may be from Time to Time under his Command, do the like, and no Commiſſion mission Officer, or Midſhipman, is to preſume to wear any other Uniform than what properly belongs to his Rank; Patterns of which, for each of the following Claſſes of Officers, viz. Captains who have taken Poſt three Years, and by His Majeſty's Regulation Rank as Colonels; all other Poſt Captains, who by the ſaid Regulation Rank as Lieutenant-Colonels; Commanders not taking Poſt; and Lieutenants; and likewiſe for Midſhipmen, are lodged at the Navy-Office, and with the Store-keeper of his Majeſty's Yard at Plymouth.

XLI.

To obſerve the King's Regulations, in relation to the Rank between his Sea and Land-Officers.

The King having been pleaſed, in Conſideration of the Inconveniencies ariſing from the Want of an Eſtabliſhment of Rank and Precedence between His Sea and Land-Officers, as well as from the Want of a due Diſtinction among the Sea-Officers themſelves, to eſtabliſh, by His Order in Council of the 10th of February 1747, certain Regulations aſcertaining the Rank and Precedence between them; All His Majeſty's Sea-Officers are hereby required to pay due Regard to the ſaid Regulations, contained in His Majeſty's aforeſaid Order in Council, as follows;

At the Court at St. James's the 10th Day of February 1747, (L. S.)

PRESENT,

The King's Moſt Excellent Majeſty in Council.

WHEREAS the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty have, by their Memorial of the 13th of November laſt, repreſented to His Majeſty at this this Board, That for Want of an Eſtabliſhment of Rank and Precedence between His Majeſty's Sea and Land Officers, and likewiſe between the Sea Officers themſelves, great Inconveniencies had ariſen, both in the preſent and former Wars: And as ſeveral of the Flag-Officers, Captains, and Lieutenants, have made a Remonſtrance upon this Head to the ſaid Lords Commiſſioners, that they had taken the ſame into their Conſideration, and being of Opinion, that if ſuch an Eſtabliſhment was made, as ſhould comprehend all the Sea Commiſſion Officers, and ſettle their reſpective Ranks parallel with the Army, according to the Quality and Truſt of the Poſts they ſhould ſerve in, and ſhould likewiſe aſcertain the Diſtinction they have a Right to among themſelves, it would be a Means, not only of animating them to ſupport the Dignity of their Rank in their reſpective Stations, but be likewiſe attended with many good Conſequences to His Majeſty's Service; and particularly with regard to the preventing Diſputes and Confuſion when the Sea and Land Forces ſhall happen to act together. And the ſaid Lords Commiſſioners have thereupon humbly offered to His Majeſty the following Propoſals, viz.

I.

That the Admiral and Commander in Chief of His Majeſty's Fleet have the Rank of a Field Marſhal of the Army.

II. That

II.

That the Admirals, with their Flags on the Main-Top-maſt-head, have Rank with Generals of Horſe and Foot.

III.

That Vice-Admirals have Rank as Lieutenant-Generals.

IV.

That Rear-Admirals have Rank as Major-Generals.

V.

That Commodores, with Broad Pendants, have Rank as Brigadier-Generals.

VI.

That Captains commanding Poſt-Ships, after three Years from the Date of their firſt Commiſſion for a Poſt-Ship, have Rank as Colonels.

VII.

That all other Captains, commanding Poſt-Ships, have Rank as Lieutenant-Colonels,

VIII. That

VIII.

That Captains of His Majeſty's Ships or Veſſels, not taking Poſt, have Rank as Majors.

IX.

That Lieutenants of His Majeſty's Ships have Rank as Captains.

X.

That the Rank and Precedence of Sea-Officers, in the Claſſes above-mentioned, do take Places according to the Seniority of their reſpective Commiſſions as Sea-Officers.

XI.

That Poſt-Captains, commanding Ships or Veſſels, in that do not give Poſt, rank only as Majors during their commanding ſuch Veſſels.

XII.

That nothing in this Regulation ſhall give any Pretence to any Land Officer to command any of His Majeſty's Squadrons or Ships; nor to any Sea-Officer to command at Land; nor ſhall either have a Right to demand the Military Honours due to their reſpective Ranks, unleſs ſuch Officers are upon actual Service.

And

And whereas the Lords of the Committee of Council, to whom His Majeſty referred the Conſideration of the ſaid Propoſals, have this Day reported to His Majeſty at this Board, that they have no Objection to His Majeſty's ſignifying His Royal Approbation thereof; — His Majeſty in Council is therefore hereby pleaſed to declare His Approbation of the aforeſaid Propoſals, and to order, that the ſaid Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty do cauſe the ſame to be carried into Execution.
